PLAN FOR MEDIATION RELIEVES TENSENESS OF MEXICAN SITUATION

Huerta's Official Acceptance of Offer to Mediate Is Received in Washington—Plans Will Be Submitted to Both Governments at the Same Time By Diplomats—Offer Coming From South American Ambassadors Means Much to U. S.

Washington, April 27.—The tenseness of the Mexican situation was distinctly relieved today when the representatives of Argentine, Brazil and Chile, supported by pressure from all Latin-America and from the foremost powers of Europe, concentrated their efforts toward a pacific adjustment of the crisis.

The success of the first steps toward mediation—the prompt acceptance by the United States and the announcement of the Spanish ambassador that Huerta had accepted the tender of good offices—produced a feeling of distinct hope which was reflected not only in Administration quarters, but in Congress, where "war talk" gave way to a spirit of conciliation.

Throughout the day the three South American envoys, who have undertaken the task of mediation, held frequent conferences to arrange the preliminaries of procedure. Pending the receipt of the formal acceptance by Gen. Huerta, no proposals will be submitted to either the United States or the Huerta government. It also has been made plain that no conditions from either party as to the terms that will be acceptable as yet has been placed formally before the intermediaries.

The President and Secretary Bryan were assured through two separate diplomatic sources that Huerta was ready to accept the tender of good offices and was drafting a formal acceptance. Pressure from Germany, Great Britain and France, advising Huerta to accept the first steps toward mediation, and the approving attitude of Latin-American countries to the settlement of the controversy by pan-American diplomacy, emphasized the world-wide influences which are working to bring about peace.

Continue Preparations.

Meanwhile the Navy and War Departments are continuing their efforts to care for refugees and perfecting the machinery of the army and navy for any unexpected turn in events.

Secretary Daniels announced he had telegraphed the full text of the mediation offer and its acceptance by the United States to both Rear Admirals Badger and Howard, with instructions to have the commanders of all ships on the east and west coasts spread the news throughout Mexico. By this means Mr. Daniels hopes the feeling toward Americans may be alleviated and refugees enabled to depart without molestation.

Advices received through the British embassy told of the completion of arrangements for the safe departure of Americans from Mexico City while the French ambassador gave the State Department a message he had received from the French legation, stating that while there had been some anti-American manifestations in the Mexican capital, order now prevailed.

Secretary Bryan said he was able, after receiving information through embassies and legations, to say that no American had been killed or injured since the crisis of the two weeks began, and that though many had been detained at Aguas Calientes, Cordoba, Orizaba, efforts were now being made to obtain their release.

Order prevails in Vera Cruz. Brig. Gen. Funston and the army is expected to be in command of the situation tomorrow. Expeditionary forces of marines have been detached from the command of Admiral Fletcher, who will return in a few days to the fleet with the marine guards.

Things Look Better.

"Things look very much better now," said Secretary Daniels during the day. "We are getting Americans out of Mexico. That is the important thing now."

Consul Canada reported that a formal raising of the American flag occurred at Vera Cruz at 4 o'clock this afternoon with impressive ceremonies.

Secretary Bryan announced that the President's recent address to Congress and with full text of the correspondence between Argentina, Brazil and Chile had now reached all Central and South American capitals and that had it gotten to Montevideo, Uruguay, earlier, the anti-American demonstration there would have been averted.

Significant Action.

"The concensus of opinion in Latin-America," said a statement from the Pan-American union here tonight, "seems to be that this action of Argentina, Brazil and Chile is in many respects the most significant and far-reaching event in the history of the American Republics, since the declaration of the Monroe Doctrine and it is hoped that the press and people of the United States will try to curb the rising war spirit and give the mediating nations strong moral support in their efforts for peace."

While Secretary Bryan and government officials expressed disinclination to discuss the mediation plan during its present stage, they said it had not reached the point of actual "proposals." The American government simply has expressed formally its willingness to listen to any plan of intermediation which the representatives of Argentina, Brazil and Chile may formulate. Huerta informally has shown his readiness to give a listening ear to the peace plans of the South American envoys. When formal acceptance comes from Huerta, formal proposals will be made simultaneously to the American government and the Huerta administration.

Huerta Must be Eliminated.

The attitude of the Administration long has been established that the elimination of Huerta was an essential to any settlement of the Mexican problem. This view was reiterated as recently as Saturday at the White House, when Senator and Representatives were consulted as to the proposal of good offices. But, while maintaining this view as to what would ultimately be essential to a real settlement, there has been no formal submission of such a condition to the envoys, now entrusted with the work of conciliation.

While the Latin-American envoys bent their energies today toward peace negotiations the War and Navy Departments directed their attention to bringing Americans out of Mexico and to the transfer of the situation at Vera Cruz from the navy to the army with the expected arrival tonight of Brig. Gen. Funston and his army brigade.

Reassuring Messages.

Throughout the day, in consular dispatches to the State Department in reports from naval commanders in Mexican waters, came reassuring messages as to the American refugees. Arrangements were completed for getting all Americans out of Mexico City, and Admiral Badger, from Vera Cruz reported plans for resuming train service between Mexico City and Vera Cruz.

Refugees were reported safe at Tampico, Puerto Mexico and other east coast points. Arrangements are being made to get them to Galveston. Admiral Howard on the west coast, reported the monitor Cheyenne's arrival at San Diego with refugees from Ensada.

Partial lists of Americans held at Aguas Calientes were forwarded by Consul Canada at Vera Cruz, but he was unable to give any information as to those held at Orizaba. The Japanese ambassador, at a conference with Secretary Bryan, asked permission for Japanese leaving Mexico to take refuge in the United States, although this will necessitate a suspension of the immigration laws. Refugees from the east coast continued to reach Vera Cruz in various vessels.

War Talk Suspended.

War talk in Congress was supplanted by a spirit of conciliation pending the mediation negotiations. There were surface outbreaks in the House, mostly along political lines, but the under-current of gossip, which last week had grown into a formidable sentiment for extreme measures, almost disappeared during the day's session of the House.

No war measures have been drafted yet on the various committees and no special meetings of the foreign affairs and foreign relations committees have been called to consider any new phases of the situation.

The Mexican discussion in the House took a wide range, Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, arraigned Consuls General Canada and Hanna for making what he said were exaggerated official reports of occurences in Mexico, calculated to inflame public sentiment.

Direct News Received.

The White House tonight made the following telegram from James A. Scyrmzer, of New York, addressed to Secretary Bryan:

"I am just in receipt of the following telegram from the Mexican Telegraph Company's superintendent of the City of Mexico:

"There have been some noisy demonstrations here and insignificant damage to American property, but no injury that I have heard of to Americans or other foreigners'."

Formal acceptance by the Huerta government offer of Argentina, Brazil and Chile to use their good offices to bring about an amicable settlement of the difficulty between the United States and Mexico was cabled to Spanish Ambassador Riano here tonight by Portillo y Rojas, foreign minister in the Huerta cabinet.

Additional List of Wounded.

Names of 13 blue jackets wounded in the fighting at Vera Cruz who had not been reported or who could not be identified in previous dispatches, were cabled to the Navy Department by Rear Admiral Badger today. The list follows:

Alvin M. Johns, coal passer, enlisted at Atlanta, Ga., January 9th, 1912, born at Atlanta April 15th, 1894. Home address Atlanta. Wounded in left foot. Condition not serious. Attached to Chester.

FOUND GUILTY OF KIDNAPING CHILD

TRIAL IN LOUISIANA

Jury's Verdict Read "Guilty Without Capital Punishment"—Kidnapping Is Capital Offense In State of Louisiana.

Opelousas, La., April 27.—"Guilty without capital punishment," was the verdict returned by the jury here today in district court in the trial of W. C. Walters, itinerant tinker, charged with kidnapping five-year-old Robert Dunbar. Under the laws of Louisiana, the verdict is equivalent to life imprisonment.

The verdict legally determines the identity of the boy taken from Walters at the time of his arrest and legally clears a mystery that presented many unusual phases, including the ability of a mother to identify her own son. It means that the youth claimed as their so nwill remain in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Dunbar here where he has been since the arrest of Walters more than a year ago, and that Julia Anderson, now ill in a New Orleans hospital, was mistaken when she testified at the trial that the boy was her own.

The jury deliberated from 11 o'clock this morning at which time Judge Pavy had concluded the delivery of his charge and the jury had retired. The day had been one of much excitement. Sheriff Swords had placed guns in the parish jail in order to be prepared for any emergency.

The finding of the jury does not end the litigation. Counsel for Walters have announced that if the usual motion for a new trial is overruled they will appeal to the State Supreme court.

Walters was arrested April 20th, 1913, nearly eight months after Robert Dunbar disappeared from a fishing camp on the banks of the Lake Swayzee. At the time of his arrest he was accompanied by a boy who Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Dunbar had identified as their lost child, but who Walters claimed was Bruce Anderson, illegitimate son of Julia Anderson. He claimed the woman had entrusted the boy

TROOPS NOT TO BE SENT TO COLORADO

Conference Held at White House Last Night.

TROUBLE CONTINUES

Fighting Is Reported From Different Places in Strike Zone—Strikers Take Mine and Buildings Are Burned.

Washington, April 27.—After a conference tonight at the White House between the President, Secretary Garrison and Senator Thompson, Secretary Garrisen announced that no orders sending Federal troops into Colorado would be issued tonight. He said the situation would be taken up again tomorrow morning.

The President had before him at the conference a pile of telegrams from representatives of mine owners and miners, State authorities and private citizens in Colorado, practically all of them appealing for Federal troops.

Officials at the White House indicated that a final report from Representative Foster who interviewed the owners of the mines in New York today was desired before the President reached a decision. Colorado members of Congress, however, expected that the orders for the movement of troops probably from Fort Russell would go out tomorrow morning.

Doubts His Authority.

It is understood that there has been a doubt in the President's mind as to his power to send Federal troops into a State merely on the request of the Governor. In this connection Section 4 of Article 4 of the Constitution has been closely examined at the White House. This provision is as follows:

"The United States shall guarantee to every State in this union Republican form of government and shall protect each of them against invasion; and on application of the Legislature or of the executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened) against domestic violence."

Since the Colorado Legislature has been summoned in special session for May 4th there has been a disposition on the part of the President to await action by the Legislature. It is said, however, that he has not finally reached this view and may consult with the attorney general before acting tomorrow.

After tonight's conference it was said word had been received from Representative Foster in New York, that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., had flatly rejected all offers of arbitration with the mine strikers. Mr. Foster was expected to confere with J. C. Osgood, another of the largest Colorado

HEARING ON TOLL REPEAL FINISHED

Canals Committee Prepares Report for Senate.

MAY AMEND THE BILL

Argument on the Floor of the Senate Expected to Last for Weeks—Committee in Executive Session Two Days.

Washington, April 27.—Hearings on the bill to repeal the free tolls provision of the Panama canal act were closed tonight and the Senate canals committee tomorrow will begin consideration in executive session of a report for the Senate. The committee was said tonight to be evenly divided for and against repeal.

Chairman O'Gorman thought the executive deliberations might last two days, but it seemed practically certain that a majority will favor some sort of report so that the measure may be brought before the open Senate this week.

Senator Simmons, who has been prominent in the fight for repeal, said the committee might report the bill with an amendment which would declare in substance that the United States waives no rights over the canal.

Others suggested that, owing to the division in the committee, a report without any recommendation whatever could be looked for. In any case the big fight on repeal will be made on the Senate floor where the debate is expected to last several weeks.

The hearings of the committee began April 9th and continued without interruption until tonight. Scores of witnesses were heard and many arguments, economic and legal, were presented.

Joseph N. Teal, of Portland, Ore., on behalf of the Portland chamber of commerce and other Pacific coast trade organizations, protested against the repeal. R. H. Phillips, of Kensington, Md., expressed the opinion that the proper Yankee way for the Democrats to get out of a bad hole the Republicans had placed them in was to exempt all ships passing through the canal from one coast of North or South America, to the other coast.

F. A. Jones, member of the Arizona State Corporation Commission, said that the inter-mountain country was just as much interested in free tolls as the Pacific coast. President Dodson, of the Pensacola chamber of commerce, favored repeal of tolls exemption.

CLEMENT IS FOUND GUILTY

Young Woman Arraigned With Him on Charge of Killing Baby Is Released by Jury.

Spartanburg, S. C., April 27.—After having been out less than two hours the jury in the case of Clyde C. Clement and Miss Laura F. Pendleton, who have been on trial here during the past week for the drowning of a baby, tonight found Clement guilty of murder and Miss Pendleton not guilty. Clement was recommended to mercy which means under South Carolina procedure, that he will be sentenced to life imprisonment.

The baby, alleged to have been the daughter of the two defendants, was found in a mill pond Januray 31st. Each of the defendants accused the other of having thrown the child into the pond the night before, from a bridge. They admitted having gone to the bridge together with the baby but each professed ignorance of the intention of the other.

Miss Pendleton's testimony differed somewhat from an alleged confession made by her after her arrest in which she was quoted as saying she unwillingly consented to the death of the baby after Clement had promised to marry her if she acquiesced and threatened to abandon her if she thwarted his design.

TWO IMPORTANT POINTS

In Personal Injury Suits Won by Railroads Before Supreme Court.

Washington, April 27.—Railroads won two important points in personal injury suits today in the Supreme Court. The court decided that where the Federal employers liability law of 1908 makes railroads absolutely liable if they are violating a "law" at the time an employe is injured the word "law" meant "Federal" and not "State law."

The court set aside a judgment of $7,500 rendered by the Supreme Court of North Carolina in favor of James T. Horton, an engineer on the Seaboard Air Line.

The court also decided that a man injured while engaged in switching intra-State cars does not come within the Federal employers' liability act, though the next thing he was to do constituted an act of inter-State commerce. As a result of this decision, the court held that John Behrens, a fireman of New Orleans, was not entitled to recover from the Illinois Central.

Washington, April 27.—Application of the New York Times Company for a review by the Supreme Court of its suit to enjoin the New York Sun from printing the alleged copyrighted account of Roald Amundson's discovery of the South Pole was denied today by the court. The case involved a construction of the copyright laws.

REFUGEES TELL OF TROUBLE IN NORTH

Monterey Incident Vividly Described on Border.

FLAG TRAMPLED UPON

And Drug Through Streets by Mob in Anti-American Demonstrations—Imprecations Hurled at All "Gringoes."

Brownsville, Texas, April 27.—An anti-American demonstration in which the Stars and Stripes was dragged through the streets and imprecations hurled at all "Gringoes" was described here today by refugees arriving on the first train from Monterey, captured several days by the Constitutionalists.

The demonstration was said to have been led by the Huerta Governor of Nuevo Leon and the Federal commander of the Monterey garrison in a vain attempt to unite the battling factions before the opening assault on the town. Next day, said the refugees, United States Consul Philip C. Hanna and ten other Americans were thrown into jail.

The demonstration occurred Tuesday immediately following receipt in Monterey of the landing of American marines at Vera Cruz.

Following the incident, a commission was sent from the Federal lines to the Constitutionalists and a three hours' armistice arranged in the endeavor to bring the two forces together. General Pablo Gonzales, the rebel commander, would not agree to cease hostilities and late Tuesday evening the battle was on again with renewed vigor.

Refugees, in telling of the arrest of Consul General Hanna, stated that he was taken from the American consulate along with eight or ten other Americans on Wednesday morning. Federals searched the consulate and found ammunition stored there by the German and American consulates for the purpose of self-defense, under a permit from Mexico City.

Consul Hanna Arrested.

Upon this discovery Mexicans took Consul Hanna in charge and escorted him to the Governor's palace, where he was held in a room until released Friday morning by the Constitutionalists after the Federals left the town. The other Americans were detained in the American consulate under the guard.

The Federals began their orderly withdrawal from Monterey shortly after midnight Thursday and before sun up Friday morning, a commission made up of the four legations in the city, went out to inform the Constitutionalists that the city was theirs.

The rebels marched in and immediately began the re-organization of the forces. The large number of prisoners, including several Americans were released. No American was injured in the fighting or during the demonstration of dragging the American flag through the streets of the city.

Refugees stated that the Constitutionalists treated them well and they have no complaints of any acts following their entry into the city. After evacuating Monterey the Federals withdrew to the south, presumably to Saltillo.

Refugees who left Monterey Saturday night stated that no estimate could be made of the killed and wounded men and a large number of bodies are scattered in the outlaying districts of the city.

Seventy-eight of the wounded were brought to Matamoras today and placed in the hospitals there. The train today was the first from the Nuevo Leon capital in a year.

TEXAS FLOODS DO DAMAGE

First Loss of Life Reported Yesterday—Several Inches of Rain and More Predicted.

Dallas, Texas, April 27.—First toll in life was taken late today by the Spring floods gathering generally over Texas, as the result of three days' heavy rain.

Thomas McIntyre, 31 years old, of Dallas, drowned when he slipped and fell into mill creek, ordinarily a small stream, but now greatly swollen.

Predictions tonight by government weather bureaus for continued rain caused warnings to persons in lowlying sections many of whom have already moved to higher ground.

At Waco, Dallas and Waxahatchie, today, rescuers were forced to go to the relief of persons caught in their houses by rising water. Flood warnings were issued for the Olmos Valley, near San Antonio.

From two to six inches of rain was reported over the entire northern part of the State with varying amounts in South Texas.

Weakened trestles and washouts have interrupted railroad schedules.

GIBSON FOUND GUILTY

On Five Counts of Grand Larceny and Forgery—Third Trial.

New York, April 27.—Burton W. Gibson, the New York attorney, twice tried in Orange county on a charge of drowning his client, Mrs. Rosa Menschik Schabo, in 1912, was convicted today of grand larceny and forgery on five counts. The charges grew out of Gibson's acts while executor of Mrs. Schabo. In both the murder trials the juries disagreed.

Vienna, April 27.—Emperor Francis-Joseph who is ill with catarrh, passed another good night, according to an official bulletin issued this morning.

SERIOUS WRECK ON THE COAST LINE

PASSENGERS INJURED

Over Twenty Received Painful Injuries, But No Fatalities— Mrs. N. A. Culbreth Among Injured—Local Trainmen.

Nearly a score of passengers were painfully injured, though none fatally, at Contentnea Junction, four miles south of Wilson, yesterday afternoon about 1:15 o'clock when, for a cause as yet unknown, two day coaches and a chair car attached to A. C. L. train No. 48, leaving here yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock, were derailed and overturned. A third day coach was derailed, but did not turn over, and the engine, baggage and express cars did not leave the track.

Early reports received here were to the effect that several passengers were very seriously injured, and perhaps fatally, including Mrs. N. A. Culbreth, of this city, and Dr. Tom Person, postmaster at Wilson, N. C. However, later advices received at A. C. L. headquarters here brought the news that no one was fatally injured. All those who were seriously injured were removed to the Wilson Sanitarium on a special train.

The wreck occurred as the train was approaching Contentnea Junction, and at a point about 300 yards south of Contentnea. Its cause has not been determined, advices to the officials of the A. C. L. here yesterday being that train, track and equipment all appeared to be in good condition. An official investigation will be conducted.

Doctors and nurses were hurried to the scene of the wreck from Wilson on a special train and gave attention to the injured passengers. A wrecking train, with additional doctors and the roadway forces, was also ordered out, and proceeded immediately to the scene.

Those who were unable to continue their journeys were taken on the special train to Wilson, where they were given treatment at the Wilson Sanitarium, and late reports were that all were resting well.

Number 48 was in charge of Conductor H. C. Twining and Engineer J. M. Donlan, both of this city. Mr. Donlan was uninjured, and Conductor Twining was only slightly injured. He rendered active service in aiding passengers and in sending out reports on the wreck. Mr. J. M. Duvall, the Pullman conductor, was also slightly injured.

The list of injured, as reported to the Coast Line officials here yesterday afternoon, is as follows:

The Injured.

H. S. Perry, Wallace, N. C., head and neck hurt.

Mrs. R. O. Martins and two children, no address, slightly hurt.

Mrs. Dr. J. C. Grady, Kenly, N. C., back hurt.

J. H. Weddell, Newbern, back and head hurt.

J. E. Horne, Wilson, ankle cut.

J. A. Duvall, Pullman conductor, head cut.

L. E. Vause, Rocky Mount, back hurt.

J. A. H. Edgerton, Goldsboro, head cut.

Mrs. N. A. Culbreth, Wilmington, N. C., first reported as seriously injured, but later reported as not seriously injured.

Mrs. W. B. Fields, Kenly, N. C., slightly hurt.

Mrs. S. B. Moore, Wilson, slightly hurt.

Miss Alma Willer, Shelby, N. C., slightly hurt.

Dr. Tom Person, postmaster at Wilson, injured about head and neck. Later reports refute first reports of Dr. Person's probable fatal injury.

Conductor H. C. Twining, Wilmington, slightly hurt.

C. A. Turley, Wilmington, arm hurt.

The Coast Line made every effort to notify relatives of those who were injured in regard to the accident as soon as the details were received and prompt steps were also taken to render every aid and comfort possible to the injured.

Mrs. Culbreth was on her way to Richmond, accompanied by her little nephew, Ed Frances Bennett, and when first reports of her injury were received here Dr. N. A. Culbreth, her husband, was making preparations to go to her in a special train. The A. C. L. officials contemplated running a special train to the scene of the accident at first, but when more complete reports had been received, telling that there had been no fatal injuries, it was decided that this was not necessary. Dr. Culbreth waited and went to Wilson on a regular train.

The wreck delayed traffic somewhat, but it was not necessary to detour business on this line. Train No. 49, due here at 6:15, arrived last night at 9:40 o'clock.

As Reported from Wilson.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wilson, N. C., April 27.—Eight people are in local hospitals suffering from injuries received when northbound passenger train No. 48 on the Atlantic Coast Line, was wrecked this afternoon at Contentnea Creek, four miles south of Wilson. Twenty or 25 others were bruised or received slight injuries.

It was almost a miracle that many passengers escaped death. The train was due here from Wilmington at 12:43 and was running a little late. Shortly after 1 o'clock a message reached Wilson of the wreck, and physicians with many citizens hurried to the scene with cots and stretchers. First reports stated that several were dead and the excitement locally was intense.

"OLD GLORY" IS RAISED HIGH ABOVE VERA CRUZ

Dress Parade and Salute Fired in Its Honor—Anti-Huerta Demonstrations in Mexico City Make Conditions Better For Americans Is Report of Refugees.

Vera Cruz, April 27.—With all ceremony, the firing of a salute and dress parade, the American flag was raised today over the division headquarters of Rear Admiral Frank Fletcher. Over the customs house, the flag has been flying since the landing of the American forces, but until now there had been no ceremony indicating the formal occuptation of Vera Cruz.

The transports with Brigadier General Funston's command aboard were off the port late today, but there has been no indication that the military forces will be sent ashore at this time. If the army lands, the blue jackets now on duty here will go aboard their ships, but the marines will be left for land service.

Five Americans who arrived by train from Mexico City today virtually were expelled by General Huerta. They had been arrested at Pachuca for no known cause. They are Dr. Hoskins, R. C. Chattion, J. Punsion, G. G. Smith and Mr. Maddox. Dr. Hoskins was subjected to rougher treatment than the others because in his pockets were found papers indicating that he had once served as surgeon in the United States army of volunteers.

These men were sent to the capital from Pachuca and Huerta ordered them to leave the country.

More Friendly Attitude Explained.

The more friendly attitude displayed in the capital towards foreigners in the last day or two was explained today when it was learned from refugees that rebel supporters in Mexico City had taken steps to change public opinion. They circulated handbills calling upon the people to protect Americans and denouncing Huerta as the cause of the landing of American naval forces at Vera Cruz and also as the author of inflammatory statements published in Mexico City.

Disapprove of Huerta.

In the handbills the people were called upon to join in a big parade in order to show disapproval of Huerta's attitude and to indicate their own friendliness towards Americans. The parade took place Saturday. The fact that it was permitted by Huerta was construed as an indication of the weakening of his power.

The rebels are said to have been gaining ground in the territory close to Mexico City. Four hundred Federal wounded were brought into the capital on Friday from nearby points. Where the battle was fought the refugees did not know.

A train which reached here early today, brought many British, German and French residents, but only five Americans. None of them came direct from Mexico City. Some of them had been prisoners of the Federals at Cordoba, others at Soledad, the headquarters of General Maas. The latter had been released by him as a result of the urgent representations of Consul Canada and were permitted to join the foreign refugee train which left the capital Sunday morning.

Another train was expected to arrive here tonight and it is understood many Americans are aboard.

Some of the refugees are responsible for an unconfirmed report, that after a demonstration, Huerta became so frightened that he hid in a foreign legation, fearing assassination.

Refugees say that prior to the change in sentiment at the capital, four Americans were seized by one of the mobs, which insisted upon lynching them. Their lives were saved by the intervention of the police whose commander promised the rioters he would shoot the prisoners but who promptly released them.

Indian Women Refugees.

Among the refugees aboard the chartered Ward Line steamer Mexico, sailing for Galveston, are ten Oklahoma Indian women who were released from prison by General Gustavo Maas on the demand of Consul Canada just before the landing of the American marines here.

They are the wives and the children of American Indians who were ranching in South Mexico and who, on being accused of sedition, fled to the hills. The women were arrested by Mexican soldiers and brought to Vera Cruz and were on the point of being taken to Quintana Roo, the Mexican Siberia. Nothing has been learned as to the fate of their husbands.

Consul Canada sent another messenger to General Maas today asking him to permit the Americans held at Orizaba and at Cordoba to board the refuge train coming from the capital

PROSPERITY SMILES ON THE KINSTON SECTION.

So Postmaster Laroque Reports in Washington.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., April 27.—W. D. Laroque, the newly named postmaster at Kinston, says his section of the State is enjoying the greatest prosperity since he can remember. Last year was an unusually good one for the tobacco growers, he says, and today there are buildings costing over a quarter of a million dollars either in course of construction or for which plans are being drawn.

"I cannot remember when my section of the State was as prosperous as it is today," said Mr. Laroque. "Contracts for or plans are being drawn for buildings in Kinston alone that will run over a quarter of a million dollars. Besides that, the entire community is enjoying a great wave of prosperity. Last year was an unusually good season for tobacco growers and, in fact, for most every one."

Mr. Larouque said Capt. J. D. Brown of the Kinston National Guard, had received orders to recruit his company up to the full war quota and prepare for immediate service in the field. He declared that several hundred more than the allotment allowed by law had applied for enlistment.

Mr. Laroque said he had no particular business in Washington. He was in Richmond on a business trip and ran over to the National Capital to hear the folk talk war. P. R. A.

Before George H. Howell, Esq., referee in bankruptcy, a petition was filed for the sale of the personal property of J. A. Rowe, bankrupt, in the hands of the trustee, Chesley C. Bellamy, Esq., but as the ownership of the property has not been determined, the referee refused to permit the sale. Further consideration of the petition was postponed until the title to the property in question can be determined.

Mr. Howell after a hearing yesterday afternoon, issued an order to the trustee, Mr. T. O. Marks, in the case of Oscar Copeland, of Broadway, Lee county, bankrupt, allowing the sale of the personal property in the hands of the trustee for the benefit of the creditors. A petition for the sale of the real estate was also made, but this was refused because the encumberances are larger in amount than the value of the estate.

NEWTON-M'AURTHUR CASE ON

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., April 27.—While the case of the American National Bank of Wilmington, vs. D. L. McBride, J. Sprunt Newton, Adam McArthur and others, was calendared as the first case at this term of Cumberland Superior Court, Judge George Rountree presiding, the announcement was made immediately following the convening of court this morning that the case had been continued by consent of counsel until Monday of next week.

The next case in order proved to be that of the Fourth National Bank of Fayetteville vs. J. Sprunt Newton, Adam McArthur and Mrs. M. C. McArthur. This suit is similar to that tried in the Federal Court at Raleigh recently, attracting State-wide attention, and the foundation of the suit is two notes of $10,000 each, purporting to have been made by J. Sprunt Newton and endorsed by Adam McArthur and Mrs. M. C. McArthur, his mother, who is mother-in-law of J. Sprunt Newton.

The entire afternoon was consumed in securing a jury, several objections being made and exceptions taken and made of record by both sides to the rulings of the court regarding the eligibility of certain jurors.

Judge Rountree laid particular emphasis upon the oath administered to the special officer sworn in to take charge of the jury, and incidentally took occasion to let the jury understand that he was placing them in the hands of a special officer because he felt that the importance of the case justified his doing so. The court room was crowded today because it is generally believed that legal erudition will be promiscuously scattered during the progress of the trial.

OXFORD WINS RELAY RACE

Jackson, Olympic Hero, Won From Pennsylvania In Four Mile Event by Just One Foot.

Philadelphia, April 26.—Oxford University of England won the four-mile college relay championship of America from the University of Pennsylvania here today in the most sensational finish ever seen in that even in the 17 years the race has been run on Franklin field. The English team won the remarkable race by a scant eight inches.

Jackson, Olympic 1,500 meter champion, the anchor man of the English team, was pushed to the limit of human endurance by McCurdy, of Pennsylvania, the two-mile intercollegiate champion, and fell into the arms of his supporters as he breasted the tape.

The race was run in a heavy rain storm and the time, 18 minutes, 5 seconds, broke the four-mile record for the Pennsylvania relays. The American and world's record is held by Corness, 17 minutes 55 second. Experts believe the track was about five seconds slow to the mile. So close was the race between Jackson and McCurdy that it was several minutes before the spectators could learn who had won.

Thirty yards from the tape McCurd led by about a foot. Jackson at the finish just managed to shove his shoulder ahead of McCurdy, who was close to the pole. When Jackson got the width of his shoulder in front of McCurdy he swerved slightly in toward the pole and the shoulders of the two men were almost touching with Jackson's just in front. This was their position at the tape.

As the two men fell across the line an excited spectator rushed at James E. Sullivan, the referee, and wildly protested that McCurdy had been fouled, but Sullivan waved him away and declared the English team the winner.

Cornell and Penn State College also were in the race, but after the second mile their runners were distanced.

Aside from the showing made by McCurdy against the Olympic champion the surprise of the race was the easy way in which Madeira, of Pennsylvania beat Tabor, of Oxford, in the third mile, by 15 yards.

MR. E. T. CRAIG DEAD.

Many friends will learn with deep regret of the death of Mr. E. T. Craig which occurred yesterday morning at 3 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. W. Stokeley, No. 509 Castle street. He suffered a stroke of paralysis several months ago from which he never recovered. He was 56 years old and besides his wife is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Stokeley and Mrs. N. B. Chadwick, of Columbia, S. C.

The funeral will be conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family home in this city by Rev. John Hollis, pastor of Fourth Street Advent church. The interment will be at Myrtle Grove Advent Christian church, of which the deceased was a faithful and devoted member.

Lands Three Big Drum.

Three large channel bass, the heaviest weighing about 30 pounds, were landed yesterday afternoon near Queens Inlet by Mr. Tony Hergenrother, one of the most ardent, and as a rule, one of the most successful, of the angling brotherhood in Wilmington. Mr. Hergenrother brought his catch to the city, and the big fish were objects of interest to many of the local sportsmen, as well as others who are not in the fraternity.

Many Members Received.

In the presence of a congregation that filled the church to overflowing at the Sunday night service at the Brookly Baptist church, 48 new members were added to the membership. A large number of candidates which were received into the church during the series of evangelistic services, were baptized.

PRACTICE CAMP CALLED OFF

Officers of the National Guard Will Not Have the "Practice School" This Spring.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 27.—There will be no practice camps for officers of the North Carolina National Guard this Spring, according to announcement made tonight by Adjutant General Young.

The practice school for officers of the infantry was to be in progress May 4th to 9th, here at Raleigh; the practice for cavalry officers at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., and the medical corps at Fort McPherson, Ga., later in the Spring.

All these are called off on account of the Federal funds for the purpose not being available at this time. Arrangements may be made, General Young says, later. The State has not the funds to meet the expense either, particularly on account of having spent all spare funds on the work of fully equipping Camp Glenn ready for mobilization purposes.

BIG BEAR STAMPEDE IN NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

Sudden Change in Mexico Situation Has Effect and Prices Go Up.

New York, April 27.—A bear stampede was caused on the stock exchange today by the change in the Mexican situation since the close of the market on Saturday. Prospects of a long war with Mexico led to heavy speculative selling of stocks last week at steadily falling prices.

The proposal of mediation and its reported acceptance by Gen. Huerta sent up prices with a rush at the opening of the market today. Traders who had sold short bid excitedly for stocks to cover and for the first hour there was a lively scene on the floor.

In Mexican Petroleum, a stock which was especially heavy last week, there was a jump of 15 1-4 points on the first few transactions. No such mavement had been witnessed on the exchange for several years. The bears in panic pushed up the price 10 points on the first transaction and thereafter a point at a time. After the excitement had subsided the quotation slipped back until 11 points of the buoyant advance had been lost. In all of last week's slump Mexican Petroleum's loss was four points less than the amount it gained during the first few minutes today.

American Smelting, which also was particulary heavy last week, owing to its extensive interests in Mexico, jumped four points on the first sale. Elsewhere gains ranged from 1 to 3 points.

GREENE COUNTY NEGRO FOLLOWER OF CARRANZA?

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., April 27.—Jamie Johnston, a negro from a rural part of Greene county, is believed by his relatives to be a warrior in Carranza's Constitutionalist army in Mexico. A Snow Hill man reports interviewing the black family which claims the hero. Not sinze before the negro battalion of the 24th infantry which was disbanded by President Roosevelt, had got into disrepute at Brownsville, Texas, has Johnston been home, but letters from him at long intervals indicate that the black soldier went with several comrades to join the rebel chieftain's colorados after loafing about Texas towns for a time.

It was stated at Jamie's home that he is now a glorious general, but the man who saw a picture of him as a soldier of the United States is inclined to doubt this, for the Jamie in the photograph was a cook and it is improbable that a very black army cook with only the essential education for enlisting should have won a star even in Carranza's army.

CAPTAIN MURCHISON'S COMPANY IS HELD IN READINESS.

Has Bride of a Few Days, But Is Ready to March.

Fayetteville, N. C., April 27.—Capt. Alton G. Murchison, commander of Company F., Second Regiment, N. C. N. G., received a telegram from Col. Rodman on Sunday notifying him to assemble his company, and after examination to see if 58 of them would pass muster, to hold it in readiness for orders. Some days ago Capt. Murchison received notice from Col. Rodman that he had offered the services of the regiment, and Capt. Murchison replied that he was ready to march on orders.

Company F is the active corps of the old Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry, which since its organization in 1793 has done service in every war in which the United States has engaged.

Capt. Murchison brought a bride to Fayetteville but a week ago; nevertheless he is ready to respond to his country's call, and is engaged in recruiting his ranks. This seems to be no difficult task, however, as volunteers are numerous.

LENOIR PLANTER A SUICIDE.

William F. Nunn's Body Found in the Woods.

Kinston, N. C., April 27.—News has reached this city of the suicide of William F. Nunn, a planter, in a woods in Trent township. A gunshot wound just under the heart caused death. Nunn probably killed himself Thursday. That day he told his wife that he was going out to a field, but instead went to a neighbor's and borrowed two shells, stating that he wanted to shoot crows. He was not seen with a gun, and it is believed he had secreted the weapon in the woods, a quarter of a mile from his home, before borrowing the ammunition. He was not seen again until there was alarm over his absence and searchers were sent out. After a protracted search the body was bound and the sheriff sent for. Nunn was 62 years of age and had a wife and 12 children. He was prominent in his neighborhood, well known here, and well-to-do. He had been in bad health for some time, and had been watched by relatives, it is learned, to prevent him from killing himself, as he had intimated he would do. A coroner's jury viewed the body and rendered a verdict of death by the deceased's own hand.

Skin Health Comes From the Blood

Even Slight Eruptions Such As Acne Should Be Treated.

Pimples and other skin troubles do not alight on the face like flies. They come bubbling out from within. They are impurities. And if let alone or greased with salves they become chronic, simply because the cause is still at work within. It should be attacked with S. S. S. and the impurities in the blood thus rendered harmless.

The skin is but a net work of fine blood vessels. And it is a perfectly natural consequence that any influence in the blood that is a condition of ill health makes its first appearance in the skin. There are certain medicinal properties that follow the course of the blood stream and the influence of these properties is that of an antidote. This is why S. S. S., the best-known blood purifier, has such a positive action in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood or from this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return.

Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin is constantly taking from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue and the cause of disease is just as constantly being removed, scattered and rendered harmless. These facts are more fully explained in a book on skin troubles sent by The Swift Specific Co., 531 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. Get a bottle to-day and banish all skin afflictions.

It is announced that the government this spring has "planted" 876,954,654 fish eggs. Just now, however, people are taking more interest in planting the flag right under the nose of Mexico's "Old Indian."

The Jersey City factory which turns out reels for the movies, is soon to send out a four-reel subject, "The Capture of Vera Cruz." Modern invention has made photography a close follower of the flag.

Says the Jacksonville Times-Union: "War should be engaged in only reluctantly." We have always followed that rule, but we have gotten into some small sized wars because others would not follow the rule.

If the War Department were to slip word to Governor Blease that it desired to accept his offer of service and order him south'ards, he might not be so well pleased. However, if he conducts himself in battle with as much pugnaciousness as he shows in personal encounters, he would have the Greasers on the run pretty soon.

HUERTA'S STATUS.

Fixing the status of Huerta seems to be about as interesting as the possibilities of war with the unrecognized dictator. So far as the possibilities for armed conflict are concerned, they have been greatly minimized for the present by the tender of friendly mediation by the Brazilian ambassador and the ministers of Argentina and Chile, who called upon Secretary Bryan on Saturday to discuss with him the possibilities of arranging an amicable solution of "the Mexican situation" through the good offices of their respective governments.

The proposition favorably struck Secretary Bryan and President Wilson, as well, for on Saturday night the President announced from the White House that he had accepted the offer of Brazil, Argentina and Chile to use their good offices "to bring about a peaceful and friendly settlement of the difficulty between the United States and Mexico."

We quote, because it should be noted that in one instance the proposition is "to arrange an amicable solution of the Mexican situation," while in another it is to make an attempt to bring about a peaceful and friendly settlement of "the difficulty between the United States and Mexico." As stated, President Wilson accepted the proffer of mediation, and The Star's dispatches from Washington state that the Spanish ambassador announced late Sunday night that he had received private advices that General Huerta had accepted the offer of the three South American republics "to bring about an amicable settlement of the difficulty between the United States and Mexico."

Now here's where we thing it is about time to fix the status of Huerta in the adjustment that is to be undertaken by Brazil, Argentina and Chile. President Wilson has said: "Our quarrel is not with the Mexican people, but with one who calls himself their ruler." How is it then, that the intermediaries can consider any alleged "difficulty between the United States and Mexico,' since we claim that we have none? We can see how the whole "Mexican situation" can be considered and passed upon by the intermediaries, but even then would not Huerta have to be recognized as more than a mere personality while the intermediaries are going into the question in its broadest scope? We very much fear that in spite of us, the Old Indian has to be recognized in some shape so we can get at him.

The Old Indian is very much of a belligerent and we can easily recognize him in that respect, but just about the time we talk like we'll go hang rather than recognize him as the ruler or the Mexican people, here comes along our agreement to arbitrate with him. If he is not the President of Mexico, how can he be expected to bind Mexico to anything? If we agree to any proposition in which his authority is acknowledged by the intermediaries as binding, that will be tantamount to all the other kinds of recognition we ever heard of.

We think the Washington government will have to call on that proverbial "Philadelphia lawyer" to advise it whether or not the Old Indian has monkeyed around and secured all the recognition that is coming to him, except that we simply haven't said it out loud. Well, we guess, our government will have to recognize Huerta, so we can diplomatically and legally hold Mexico responsible for his acts. Otherwise, when we present war claims on Mexico she will claim that she is not responsible for the acts of Huerta, the mere person, and prove the case by pointing to our own words and our own action as evidence that Huerta was only a usurper and a dictator and had no power to palm himself off as Mexico.

We hate to do it. It goes against the grain, but it is getting to be pretty plain that in agreeing for Brazil, Argentina and Chile to act as go-betweens, we have just about gone and done what we have refused to do. However, we are satisfied that President Wilson would not recognize Huerta if he were to meet him on Pennsylvania avenue.

OUR TRADE WITH MEXICO.

According to a bulletin of the Department of Commerce at Washington the foreign trade of Mexico has continued to increase, despite four years of strife and civil war, which necessarily has affected some of the richest sections of Mexico. Mexico's foreign trade in the fiscal year 1913, amounted to $248,000,000, of which $150,000,000 represented exports and $98,000,000 represented imports. Thus, it can be observed that Mexico had last year a balance of trade of $52,000,000 in her favor.

The United States in that year took 77 per cent. of Mexico's export and supplied 50 per cent. of her imports. Our Mexican neighbors even had a big advantage of us in the trade between the two countries. We have been Mexico's best customers and she has been a pretty good customer of ours, even if she has bought more guns and war material than we cared to sell her under the circumstances.

Mexico is a country of marvelous resources both in her mineral wealth and her productive versatility. We fear, however, that Mexico has been a large seller chiefly to finance her wars, and in that respect a day of exhaustion is bound to follow years of interminable warfare and cessation of production. Mexico has been selling her hoard, but the time must not be far off when she will have very little to export and not be able to import to any great extent.

In that particular, Mexico's condition will be very much like that of the South from 1861 to 1863, during the Civil War. During the first two years of war, the South drew upon splendid resources, but after four years of exhaustion and no compensating production, the day came when the South could no longer maintain its splendid armies against an opulent as well as resourceful foe.

"THE SPIRIT OF SALISBURY."

The above is the name of a new illustrated monthly publication issued by the Industrial Club and Merchants' Association of Salisbury. A spirit of industrial enterprise seems to pervade Salisbury and it is reflected in the live bodies which have begun the publication of their own means of publicity. "The Spirit of Salisbury" is not a very large publication, because it confines itself to boosting Salisbury without featuring anything else. It mentions a number of new enterprises just established in the city as a result of the effort to make Salisbury a manufacturing city.

The Industrial Club and Merchants' Association are growing in earnest harmony and they are doing work that counts. The organizations support a paid secretary and capable booster, and judging from the illustrations in their publication for April, their new quarters are as handsome as are to be found in the best cities in the South. Salisbury claims to be one of the best, although she is not quite so large as some that are not as live as Salisbury. The people of that city have the right sort of spirit and that is what counts. There is complete co-operation, just as there must be in Wilmington.

THE STAR IN ITS NEW HOME.

This morning's paper is the first regular edition to be issued from The Star's new home on Chesnut street, where it is now installed and ready to greet its friends from as completely equipped a newspaper plant as could be desired. With new equipment, The Star in the near future will be a seven-day paper. This is an improvement that its readers will appreciate, we are sure, and one that we take pleasure in making.

Friends are invited to call at our new home and inspect the plant. They will find about everything that is essential in the making of a modern daily newspaper. From this date on The Star hopes to move up several pegs in its service and to realize the hope and ideals of many years. With ample facilities and a home of its own, it will be in position to serve its clientele in a manner that will leave nothing to be desired.

A New Orleans man refused to tell his wife a secret after having excited her curiosity by telling her that only himself and about half a dozen others knew anything about it. He finally had to tell it so he wouldn't be kept awake all night trying to explain that he was not the chief party concerned in the secret. When a man talks too much he has to do more talking to get out of it.

When Secretary Bryan was about to communicate this country's demand for a salute to the flag by the Huerta government, President Wilson said: "Tell O'Shaughnessy our terms are unconditional in every detail." Since the seizure of Vera Cruz a week ago, Huerta has the strongest reasons for believing that the American President said what he meant and meant what he said.

Already the North, the South and the East have laid their sons on the altar as sacrifices in the fighting with the Mexicans at Vera Cruz. About eight times as many Mexicans have been killed in facing a powerful force sent to seek reparation from Huerta. We shall not say that they were fighting a powerful enemy, for this country is not Mexico's enemy.

All the pomp and circumstance and fun of the National Guard encampments, drills, banquets, et cetera, become as tinsel and gaudy nothings when Mars pokes his bearded face into the armory, for men enrolled are fastened tight as the regulars, and must march when the War Department roars, "Ha, Oop!" or words to that general effect.

We could have wished that our move were based on a little bit stronger argument than the arrest of the marines, but the accumulated outrages of a couple of years hardly need any bolstering at all to give reason for jumping on the Huertaistas, the Villaistas, Papatistas and the Carranzistas and wiping them from the face of the earth.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The Wilmington Star says: "We see such confusing references to 'progressives' and Progressives that we get mixed up on their brand of politics. In order to distinguish them from Teddyists we move that progressive Democrats be called 'forward-looking men.'" We object. We would rather have these progressives confused with the Teddyists than with honest men who have eyes in their faces instead of the backs of their heads.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The figures on the attendance at the suffrage meetings in Raleigh indicate that there are more suffragists in Raleigh than some have supposed. As indicated in the local article in yesterday's paper telling of Friday's meeting, we believe the principal reason women want the ballot is that they hold they can make it a weapon for good. What the women did to the saloon in Illinois the first good chance they had is well remembered.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The situation with the State military companies is different from what it was at the beginning of the Spanish-American trouble. At that time State rules and regulations prevailed. Remember the celebrated "try-out meeting of the Hornets Nest Riflemen when the call came for volunteers? In answer to the roll call scarcely enough men to form a squad stepped to the front. There will be nothing of that sort this time. The men are under United States army regulations. They will not have the choice of resigning. On the other hand, the calling out of the troops would be followed by a special examination. Any member of the National Guard found physically deficient would be dropped from the ranks. All others would be sent to the front. In the case of officers, resignations are permitted under certain conditions, but there is scarcely an officer in the State who would be found willing to offer his resignation in the face of a call to duty. There are some chaps in the State companies who are under age, and these may wriggle out of going to the front, but every able-bodied man is in for it.—Charlotte Observer.

STEEL PLANT RUMOR AGAIN

The rumor to the effect that two large German syndicates have practically completed plans for the establishment in Wilmington, N. C., of two large smelting and steel mills, to handle the ore from their mining properties on the coast of Chile, will not down, and now appears again, this time in a Baltimore, Md., despatch to the New York Journal of Commerce, of last Saturday, in which it is stated that the rumor is going the rounds in Atlantic coast circles there.

It will be remembered that the matter was first brought to the attention of Wilmingtonians by an article appearing in the New York American, in which it was stated that that publication had information to the effect that two large German syndicates, acting independently of each other, had practically consummated plans for the establishment in Wilmington, North Carolina, of two large steel and iron mills, to smelt and manufacture ores from their mining properties in Chile, and that they were negotiating for a fleet of steamers to transeport the ore from Chile to this point.

One paragraph of the article carried a reference to the fact that Messrs. DuPont had contributed heavily to get the new enterprise, and this fact led many here to believe that Wilmington, Del., was really the place meant, it being presumed that the Messrs. DuPont referred to were the powder magnates of the Delaware port.

Mr. Howard B. Branch, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, communicated with the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Wilmington, Del., and was advised that the latter body had made an effort to get a German syndicate with offices in New York to locate a plant in an abandoned steel mill in Wilmington, Del., but that no definite results had been obtained.

Many still cling to the hope here that Wilmington, N. C., is the point at which the big enterprises are to be established, and it is generally conceded that this city has many natural advantages to offer such as enterprise.

The despatch from Baltimore to the Journal of Commerce will probably strengthen them in this belief. Local officials of the Coast Line, however, disclaim any knowledge of the project.

The correspondence itme appearing in the Journal of Commerce of Saturday is as follows:

"Baltimore, Md., April 24—It is reported in Atlantic Coast circles that two German syndicates, acting independently, have practically completed plans for building two steel plants at Wilmington, N. C. Ore will be brought from Chili and a line of steamers to carry the ore is also included in the proposed plans of the syndicate."

SELLING WHISKEY LED TO NEGRO'S DOWNFALL.

Henry Carter Will Have 12 Months In Which to Mend His Ways.

It was a pint of whiskey that caused Henry Carter, an aged crippled negro, to get a sentence of 12 months on the county roads yesterday when he was tried before the Recorder. According to the evidence Henry sold Tate Croom, white, a pint of the fiery fluid and later went in to Croom's place of business and hit him over the head twice with his crutch. Croom was laid up for several days while Carter was domiciled in the county jail on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. When Croom came down yesterday he swore out a warrant against Carter for violation of the prohibition law. Six months on the county roads on each charge was the order of the court.

Wallace Miles, colored, was given 12 months on the roads also, six months for carrying concealed weapons and six months for an assault with deadly weapon. Nick Chambers, colored, was alleged to have hit Nancy May with a stick Sunday night and it was three months on the roads for him. Elijah Nero, colored, got three months on the roads for an assault with a deadly weapon.

Frank Gause, colored, was charged with shooting on the streets and with carrying concealed weapons. Judgment was suspended in the former case while he was fined $25 and the costs in the latter. Mary Winn, Viola Rogers, Shellie Fennell and Nancy May, all colored, charged with vagrancy, were found not guilty. T. D. Baker, white, paid $1 0and the costs for being disorderly while Lossie Allen, colored, charged with the same offense, was fined $5 and the costs. James Willis, colored, same charge, also paid $5 and the costs.

Cases against Eddie Brinckley, colored, charged with larceny from the person, and against Richard Howard, James Howard, Robert Flowers, John Williams, Loyd Mulgro and George Griffin, all colored boys, charged with stealing horses, were continued until today.

Rosindale, N. C., April 27.—A quiet but exceedingly pretty wedding was solemnized Tuesday, April 21st, when Miss Louise McKay became the bride of Walter Baxter, of Guilford. Miss McKay was one of Bladen county's fairest and most accomplished daughters, modest and retiring, gentle and refined.

Rev. H. W. Koelling, of Wilmington, a former pastor of the bride, officiated, the ceremony being performed in the east room of the McKay home, which had been tastefully decorated with long-leaf pine, ferns, ivy and sweet peas, the color scheme being pink and white, the whole being illuminated with numerous candles. The bride presented a pretty picture attired in charmeuse with lace and pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of Bride roses and ferns tied with tulle. Miss Gobel McKay, the maid of honor, and Miss Mary Williams, the bridesmaids, were attired in creations of pink charmeuse and lace. The best man was Newton Baxter, brother of the groom, and the groomsman, James McKay, brother of the bride. The lovely bride entered on the arm of her father, H. S. McKay, who gave her in marriage. Miss Margaret John, of Fayetteville, a friend of the bride, presided at the piano.

NEW REGISTRAR IN THIRD.

Irregularities of Saturday Causes Change to be Made.

Mr. Jno. S. McEachern, chairman of the city board of elections, announced yesterday the appointment of Mr. W. S. Rochelle as registrar in the Third Ward for the forthcoming bond election, in place of the former registrar, complaint of whom was made by those who attempted to register for the election last Saturday and found it impossible to do so. Mr. McEachern states that if any one who went to the polling place Saturday and failed to be registered, if they will telephone the city clerk and treasurer, Capt. Thos. D. Meares, or the chairman of the board of elections, the new registrar will call and register them.

Mr. McEachern also states that City Attorney E. K. Bryan does not think the legality of the election will be affected by the irregularities in the registration as reported Saturday, and other attorneys of the city also seem to be of the same opinion, though there is a belief that the bonds, if carried, might not find ready sale on account of the incident.

$1.00 will do double duty today at Polvogt's Dollar Day Sale. Be sure and attend—Advertisement.

ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED

Odd Fellows Have Enjoyable Occasion—Grand Master M. L. Shipman Unable to Come.

Celebrating the 95th anniversary of the founding of the order, a most enjoyable affair was given last evening in the Odd Fellows' Hall by the four local lodges of this city which was attended by a large number of the members and their wives, daughters and friends. Grand Master M. L. Shipman, of Raleigh, was to have made the oration for the occasion but on account of the wreck at Contentnea was unable to reach the city in time.

Mr. M. W. Jacobi, chairman of the board of trustees of the Odd Fellows' Orphanage, made a short address on the splendid work which this institution is doing. He showed how it had grown from 1892 when it had only five children until today when there are 101 boys and 33 girls being taken care of. He spoke of the many men and women that have gone out and are today useful members of society. It was a most interesting talk and was greatly enjoyed by the large number present.

An elaborate musical programme had been prepared for the occasion which was also greatly enjoyed. Those who took part were Miss Lucile Riley and Messrs. C. L. Schulken and W. B. Muse. Miss Cannie Chasten was accompanist. Each number was warmly encored and each singer was compelled to respond several times. Miss Sarah Peck Hines gave several readings most effectively.

Following the regular programme delightful refreshments consisting of sandwiches and coffee and ice cream and cake were served.

The hall was beautifully decorated by the Daughters of Rebekah with palms, smilax, cut flowers and ferns.

WORK OF CLEANING UP STILL IN PROGRESS.

Street Department Does Another Big Day's Work Yesterday.

The Street Department yesterday did another big day's work, 162 loads having been hauled to the incinerator. Work on the streets north and south was done yesterday and today Superintendent McAllister's workers will be on the streets running east and west. Tomorrow will be devoted to the alleys and general cleaning up. This will close the campaign for cleaning up the city.

After May 1st, the citizens of the city will be required to place all trash and rubbish in receptacles. Today and tomorrow they may place it on the streets and it will be removed. It is important that every premise be cleaned up this week in order that the street department may start out with a clean record the first of the month.

Superintendent McAllister has written a letter to the real estate agents and owners of vacant lots asking them to co-operate with him in cleaning up all vacant lots in the city. It is important that this be done, as trash that is allowed to accumulate at any place is liable to be blown around by the wind. It can easily happen that the man who has cleaned up his premises may have them littered with rubbish from an adjoining lot.

ACROSS ATLANTIC TO WED

English Maiden Joins Fiance in This City—Plighted Troth In St. James Sunday Morning.

Coming across the Atlantic from Delbyshire, England, to join her fiance, Mr. Frank Lomas, now living in Wilmington, Miss Edna Bower arrived in Wilmington Saturday night, and Sunday morning at 9 o'clock they plighted their troth in St. James Episcopal Church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton. The wedding was very quiet and only the close friends of the groom were present.

While the vows were being said Prof. Frederick Richens rendered appropriate music.

It was seven years ago when Mr. Lomas left his English home to seek his fortune in America. He left behind, however, a maiden whom he had learned to admire and to love. For four years he worked and then went back for a brief visit to his old home. Another three years have passed and as it seemed unlikely that he could return home in the near future and since it would be more convenient for him, he asked Miss Bower to join him here. To this she gladly assented.

Two weeks ago she left her English home and took a steamer for New York. After a brief visit to the metropilis she came to Wilmington, reaching this city Saturday night.

Mr. Lomas is carpenter foreman for the Miller corporation which has the contract for the erection of the Murchison National Bank building. He has been in Wilmington only a short time but has already made many friends. He is a member of St. James choir and a talented singer.

The bride and groom received a number of beautiful wedding presents but none that they appreciate more than the handsome chair which was presented to them by the "boys on the job," the comrades and fellow workmen with Mr. Lomas.

They are making their home at No. 312 North Second street.

Dismissed and Rearrested.

The charge of assault upon Mrs. Bessie Hudson, on which Lang Sellars was arrested Saturday night, was dismissed yesterday by Justice Harriss for want of probable cause, but the defendant was later arrested on another warrant, sworn out before Justice Bornemann, charging him with a graver offense. He gave bond in the sum of $250, with C. R. Davis as surety. In the meantime, Sellars took out a peace warrant before Justice Harriss for W. A. Hudson, husband of the woman making the charges against him, and in default of $200 bond Hudson went to jail.

—The Standard Oil Company yesterday obtained judgment in the Recorder's court in a civil suit brought against the Buell Crocker Lumber Co., for the sum of $322.18. W. P. M. Turner, Esq., represented the plaintiff.

STAR IN ITS NEW QUARTERS

State's Oldest Newspaper Now in Home of Its Own With Modern Equipment—Removal.

Having recovered in a small measure from the throes of moving from its former location at No. 13 Princess street to its new home at No. 109 Chesnut street, The Star goes to its readers for the first regular edition this morning, and hopes to greet its readers for "many moons to come" from one of the best and most modernly equipped small newspaper plants in the South.

Those who have never experienced the difficulties of moving a printing plant have no idea of the task involved and it will be a week or ten days before the paper is fully settled in its new quarters. Until that time readers and friends of the paper are asked to be patient and ere long "the best we have in the shop" will be theirs for the asking. As soon as things are going well, The Star will undertake a more extended mention of its new home and equipment and believes that its readers will be interested in something of the plans and purposes of the paper.

The work of removal from the former location was accomplished within a day and the extra edition yesterday morning was from the new plant and went to all subscribers and early mails strictly on time.

No sooner was the Sunday morning paper from the press than the work of dismantling the old plant began and by 6 o'clock Sunday evening when it was seen that the Mexican situation demanded that the paper's readers should know of what had been going on to the south of us, word was passed along to the mechanical department that an extra was necessary and the response was "ready." Although worked to the limit of physical endurance almost, every man in the shop turned in with a will, a determination and a loyalty to the sheet, that was sublime. To remove a printing office a couple of blocks within 12 hours without the slightest interruption of service is a testimonial to all who had a hand in the accomplishment.

The mechanical department was fortunate in having to its assistance in moving the linotype machines, Mr. W. F. F. Newton, of the Evening Dispatch, and Mr. C. H. Huband, of the Southern Lumber Journal, both experienced linotype machinists, to whom the thanks of the shop are due for splendid assistance to the paper's own machinist, Mr. W. H. Lassell, and Mr. Geo. E. Megow, who aside from being one of the "swifts" in the trade, is also a first-class machinist. The foreman, Mr. Clarence Mattingly, and his assistant, Mr. Lee Porter, and another of the "swiftest of the swift" when it comes to pumping a linotype, Mr. "Dick" Barfield, did the rest with a 24-hour day's hard work by Mr. Henry Hewlett, in charge of the job printing department of the paper.

The "front" office and the editorial departments, also had their troubles in getting over books, typewriters, copy-paper and the rest of the paraphernalia. The press room force was a little more fortunate than the remainder of the departments for the reason that the change of location has involved the installation of an entirely new and modern equipment to take the place entirely of the plant in the old location. For several weeks Mr. J. J. Scully, of the Goss Printing Press Co., Chicago, has been here installing modern stereotype press equipment for the paper and this fortunately was "fit as a fiddle." Mr. J. Tillman Howard, who has had charge of The Star's press equipment for a number of years, has been well instructed in the mysteries of the new three-deck machine, and when it was known early Sunday evening that the new press would be required for an issue the following morning, Scully and Howard and "Eddie" Boswell, the official stereotyper for the plant, formed a triumvirate that were fully equal to the occasion. Promptly on time the plates were all on the press, word was given and the big machine was busy spitting the edition out at a rate of 18,000 an hour and not "half trying" as the rated capacity of the press is 24,000 perfect papers per hour, folded and counted. But more of the press later in a more comprehensive description of the new Star.

The Star hopes in a few days to be fully at home in its new quarters and until then we shall do the best that is possible.

BATTALION READY TO MOVE AT AN HOUR'S NOTICE.

Adjutant General Young in Close Touch With War Department.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 27.—Adjutant General Young, of the North Carolina National Guard, said this morning that he is in the closest touch with the War Department with regard to preparations for the mobilization of the National Guard and has all the officers and men of the North Carolina battalion ready to move at an hour's notice for the mobilization point, which in this State is Camp Glenn, Morehead. The companies are already enlisted to war strength and he could almost as easily put in two battalions of war strength as one. The minimum per company is 48 men and the maximum 104 men. All the companies of the North Carolina Guard are now really on waiting orders with instructions in detail in hand ready for the order to be flashed from Washington.

Speaking of Camp Glenn, General Young said that he has a force of men at work completing the regulation sanitary kitchens and mess halls and other equipment to accommodate a full battalion and when mobilization does come the accommodations will be ample. The complete water supply sustained by an artesian well with a flow of 110 gallons per minute, is ample for every possible demand that could be made on it. The camp consists of 48 acres especially adapted for camp purposes and with surrounding country well suited to practice work in campaign and battle formations.

The sanitary equipment is complete. There is sound bathing and also shower baths, the sewerage is complete and General Young regards Camp Glenn the most healthful place that mobilization could possible be accomplished in at any season of the year. Special attention to the drainage of the surrounding country has reduced to a minimum the possibility of annoyance by mosquitoes. It is expected that the call for the mobilization of the North Carolina Guard will come the very hour that the Congress declares war.

TAX LISTING BEGINS FRIDAY

Will Continue Through Month of May—New System Expected to Prove a Time Saver.

The tax listing for New Hanover county for 1914 will begin next Friday, May 1st, and continue through May 31st, and the county officials are busy making final preparations for the work. The lists for Wilmington township will be taken in the basement at the court house, while for the other townships, the listers will be at their posts at different central points. Messrs. Henry K. Nash and Walter Rutland are the listers for Wilmington township this season.

The city, county and State lists in Wilmington township will be taken at the same time and place as heretofore, the listers in this township serving by joint appointment by the Board of County Commissioners and the City Council.

The hours for listing this year will be from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M., and the listers will be on duty continuously during that time, in order that listing may continue through the dinner hour. Heretofore the tax listing office has always been closed during the dinner hour, and the innovation this year is sure to prove popular with many whose duties prevent them from taking off time enough to list during business hours.

The listers will not occupy the rooms in the basement in the court house which have been used in other years, as they are now occupied by the Associated Charities headquarters. Arrangements have been made for fitting up the desks and tables in the big center aisle in the court house basement, and the listing will be done there.

Auditor J. A. Orrell has adopted a new tax-listing sheet this season which promises to be a very decided advantage over the old style sheets. And, in order to save time, the lists all property owners whose real estate was listed last year, have been filled out in advance and filed alphabetically. When a lister comes in it will not be necessary to make out a complete list, as most of the information is already contained on the paper. A record of real estate transfers has been kept and consulted in filling in the list, and after checking over the real estate, adding the items of personal property, etc., the paper is ready to be signed and sworn to.

Another time saver that has been instituted is the manner of taking the State and county list and the city list at the same time, in duplicate. Heretofore these lists have had to be made out separately.

The books open Friday morning at 9 o'clock, and taxpayers are urged to do their listing in the early part of the month and avoid the latter days' rush.

EDUCATE PUBLIC OPINION

Frank A. Vanderlip Urges the Expulsion of Ignorance and Inefficiency from the Farm.

New York, April 27.—Ignorance and inefficiency among the country's farmers rather than big business make up the fundamental cause of the high cost of living, Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City Bank declared at a dinner of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association here tonight. Land is being utilized with but 40 per cent of efficiency, yet the farmer is not held culpable—he is not answerable to society, Mr. Vanderlip said, as is the railroad manager who produces anything less than 100 per cent.

Mr. Vanderlip deprecated what he alluded to as increasing bonds of hampering regulations under which business is being placed by law. As a means of obtaining relief for what he said, is an existing business depression he urged a campaign of education to have public opinion based on "correct economic principles."

Discussing the cotton industry, Mr. Vanderlip said the Department of Agriculture "seems to be the one arm of our government truly devoted to upbuilding an intelligent development of our resources. This development has shown, he said, what a "shamefully small average yield," there is of cotton in the United States compared with certain other countries.

"I believe there is no more important service that you men are engaged in cotton manufacturing business can perform looking toward the development of the cotton industry than to do all you can to awaken public opinion to the need for efficient methods of cotton cultivation," he asserted.

"We are today a nation grown critical of business methods and resentful of business accomplishment. By far the greater part of government energies, as related to business, are directed toward destruction rather than constructive and creative ends.

"Farmers and planters also owe something to society in the way of intelligently conducting their business. They hold the means of production in their control. The public interest and the common good demand that they exercise the trust with intelligence, efficiency and thrift. You have got to do something besides run your cotton mills. You and other business men must educate public opinion."

MARKET DATA FROM GROWERS

Present Trucking Conditions Will be Compared with 1906—Blanks Provided.

Mr. J. P. Herring, New Hanover county farm demonstrator, has recently mailed out blanks to growers for listing the acreage in fruit and truck and he desires to get these back as soon as possible in order to make his report to Mr. Wm. R. Camp, chief of State division of markets. This is work which the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station has recently inaugurated which has proven to be quite popular with fruit and truck growers as well as with farmers generally.

The aim and object of the division is to get the producer and consumer in closer communication with each other. It frequently happens that in one section of the State there is a large supply of some farm-grown article which is in much demand in another section, but since the local grower does not know about it, he may sell his produce at home for a much lower price than it is worth.

It is important, Mr. Herring states, that the blanks be filled out this week and either sent to Mr. Wm. R. Camp, chief of division of markets, Raleigh, or to Mr. J. P. Herring, who will turn them over to Mr. Camp. It is important to have the list of growers as once in order to get the data in the next Farmers' Market Bulletin. It should bring inquiries from some buyers while others would probably send agents into certain territory to purchase produce.

Says Mr. Camp in his letter to Mr. Herring:

"This is an opportunity for all interested in the prosperity of the truck and fruit industry to co-operate with us in securing these facts which will enable us to see where and how we may best help the growers organize a more effective system of marketing. A complete list of the growers and their acreage in 1914 and 1906 of the crops shown in the enclosed blank will enable us to see the prosperity or decline of this industry in your community. Space is left in each blank for each grower to specify the cause of the increase or decrease of his acreage. The statement of the total acreage in other crops will make plain whether truck and fruit are the main crops or not.

"A few questions are asked to bring out the present methods of marketing as compared with those of 1906. The answer to these questions will make clear whether the growers have ceased to receive mail orders from distant buyers or whether they are largely selling to local buyers, who are either representatives of distant buyers or local merchants. The answer to the question as to the total amount shipped from your shipping point can only be obtained through the co-operation of your local freight agent."

MR. WENDELL DUNCAN DEAD.

Respected Young Man Passed Away Sunday Night—Funeral Today.

Many friends will learn with deep regret of the death of Mr. Wendell Duncan, son of Mrs. M. E. Duncan, which occurred at the family home, No. 501 South Fifth street, at 7 o'clock Sunday night after an illness of several months. He was 28 years old and was a young man of strictest integrity. He was popular with a host of friends to whom his death was a great shock.

Besides his mother he is survived by three brothers, Messrs. B. J. Duncan, of Philadelphia, and Rudolph and DeWitt Duncan, of this city, and six sisters, Mrs. Harris Griffin and Mrs. Ira Turnham, of Fort Scribbin, Ga.; Mrs. Walter Thompson, of Richland, N. C., and Misses Renalda and Ruby Duncan, of Wilmington. They will have the sincere sympathy of many friends.

The funeral will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock this morning from the residence by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. W. L. Rexford, pastor of Trinity Methodist church. The remains will be taken on the morning train to Rocky Point, and thence through the country to Pike Presbyterian church for interment.

GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIP OF RAILROADS SUGGESTED.

As Only Alternative to An Increase of Net Revenues of Carriers.

Washington, April 27.—In arguments and in briefs submitted today to the Inter-State Commerce Commission by counsel for the Eastern railways in the advance rate case, government ownership of railways was suggested as the only alternative to an increase of the net revenues of the carriers.

On the other hand, Louis D. Brandeis, special counsel for the commission, offered a brief contending that if the railroad concerved the revenues properly derivable from existing rates there would be no necessity for an advance.

Consideration of the opposing contentions by the commission will begin immediately with the view of determining quickly the question of whether additional revenues are needed. If the decision is that there must be more income then the commission will take up the problem of where it is to come from.

Sofia, Bulgaria, April 27.—Queen Eleanora, of Bulgaria, has decided to cancel her proposed visit to the United States in case of war between the United States and Mexico. She had contemplated sailing for America at the end of May.

CONVICTS MAKE ESCAPE.

Six Get Away from New Hanover Camp.

Report was made to the police early this morning that six convicts escaped from the temporary camp on the Scott's Hill road last night. The information was reported by one of the guards, and was meagre as to details. He did not know the names of the escaped convicts; but said that he would find these out and report later. He asked the police to keep a lookout for the convicts. They made their escape by cutting the shackles off their legs, it was stated.

The names of the convicts that escaped as reported to the police are as follows: Nathaniel Ballard, Levi Blueford, Charlie Davis, Charlie Hall, Harry Jeffries and Valentine Howe.

MAY ARREST WOMEN.

Police and Recorder's Court Investigating Underworld.

Activities in police circles and the Recorder's court indicate the probability that warrants will be issued in the near future for a number of "reputed" women of the underworld, now said to be located in Wilmington. In his monthly report of April 26th, as required by law, Chief of Police N. J. Williams reported to the Recorder that there were 27 "reputed" women of the underworld in Wilmington. The Recorder yesterday at noon asked the chief for further information and evidence, presumably for the reason that he did not deem the word "reputed" evidence enough on which to issue warrants, as he is required to by law.

COTTON MARKET IRREGULAR

Near Months Unsettled by Uncertainty as to Probable Extent of Effect of May Notices.

New York, April 27.—The cotton market was irregular today with near months unsettled by uncertainty as to the probable extent and effect of the May notices expected tomorrow, while the new crop was relatively quiet and steady. The close was steady and firm, 4 to 11 points net higher.

The market showed considerable strength during the early trading and after opening firm at an advance of 6 to 8 points sold about 11 to 14 points net higher. A good deal of realizing was encountered on the advance, however, and the market soon turned easier in consequence. Prominent brokers seemed to have a good deal of May for sale against purchases of July or later months and while May had increased its premium on the early advance, that month led the subsequent decline, selling back to within two points of Saturday's closing prices and to within three points of the July price.

New Crop positions followed by the near months reaction to the extent of only 4 or 5 points, and closing prices showed rallies of 3 or 4 points from the lowest on covering. The talk around the ring reflected much confusion on opinion as to notice day developments tomorrow. Some traders predicted that the bulk of the local stocks would be tendered, others predicted that notices would be issued against only a few thousand bales.

Spot quiet; middling uplands 13.25; middling gulf 13.50; sales none. Cotton futures closed steady.

BIG EFFECT IN STOCKS

Sudden Shift in Mexican Situation Causes Complete Reversal in Stock Market.

New York, April 27.—The sudden shift in the Mexican situation caused a complete reversal in the stock market today. The proposal for mediation and General Huerta's reported acceptance came at a time when the market had been sold out, and was in an exceptionally strong position technically. It was owing to this condition of affairs that the market made such a swift and decided response. Shorts were stampeded and for half an hour after the opening trading was excited. First prices were one to four points higher.

The movement in Mexican petroleum was spectacular. This stock lost 11 points last week owing to fear of damage to its property located in Mexico. It opened 10 points higher today and then bounded up to 68 an advance of 15 1-4. No such performance had been witnessed on the stock exchange since the historic flare in Rock Island several years ago. Mexican Petroleum had been heavily sold on last week's break and today's spurt was due to efforts of panicky shorts to cover. As soon as the rush was over the price fell back swiftly. At the close it had lost all its 15-point gain and a point more.

Smelting which also has large interests in Mexico made an exceptional opening gain of four points. Every part of the list showed decided strength, but the upturn was due principally to covering and represented little in the way of aggressive bullish operations. The prospects of successful solution of the Mexican problem by mediation were considered too uncertain to justify confident trading on the long side. Prices in consequence fell off after excited covering of the early session was over.

The market was dull and uncertain until the last hour, when pressure was applied and a large part of the early gains were lost.

Few stocks including Lehigh Valley and Canadian Pacific showed losses at the close. Colorado Iron, influenced by the disastrous Colorado strike, was especially heavy.

London played a large part in the day's movement. American stocks there moved up strongly before the opening here. London came into this market as a buyer, taking perhaps 20,000 shares.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales 1,675,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

CONVINCING TESTIMONY

Given by Many Wilmington People.

Experiences told by Wilmington people—

Those who have had weak kidneys—

Who use Doan's Kidney Pills—

Who found the remedy effective—

Such statements prove merit.

You might doubt an utter stranger.

You must believe Wilmington people.

Here's Wilmington proof. Verify it. Read. Investigate. Be convinced. You'll find why Wilmington folks believe in Doan's.

Miss M. Rivenbark, 105 Dock St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I had a constant, dull pain in the small of my back and some days I could hardly get about the house. The kidney secretions bothered me and I had but little strength or energy. I used several kidney tonics and remedies, but nothing gave me relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, which were procured at Bellamy's drug store. It didn't take them long to give me lasting benefit. You are welcome to continue using my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Miss Rivenbark had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

What Saving Means

The test of a man's ability to succeed is his Ability to Save Money.

The man that will not or can not save is sure to be branded a Failure.

But the man who can and does save is respected by those who know him and goes about with the mark of Success upon him.

He advances from one position of trust to another, always working higher.

It is not so much the amount saved as the fact that he can save that gives Confidence, Independence, Power and Success.

We urge all men to save and invite them to deposit their savings with us for Safety, Convenience and Profit.

THEATRICAL

After an entire season at the Eltinge Theatre, New York, where it played to capacity business, from the beginning to the end of the long engagement, "Within the Law," Bayard Veiller's absorbing melodrama of modern life in New York, will come to the Academy of Music tonight. This play which has for its principal theme an exposition of the police methods and economic conditions that exist in the metropolis, has excited more comment than any drama produced within the half century mark. The minimum wage question now being agitated so widely is one of the important themes selected by the dramatist as the basic material of his play. There is a story of a poor shop girl who is sent to prison for a crime she does not commit. After her release and a vain endeavor to obtain decent employment, she becomes the "brains" of a gang of "crooks" and as their leader carries on various schemes by which she obtains enormous sums of money, managing always to keep within the pale of the law, and snapping her fingers in the face of the police department. One of these "crooks" comes into possession of a revolver silenced with a Maxim patent mute—this ingenius and terrible weapon wreaks silent havoc throughout the play and becomes an object of pivotal interest in the theme. How Mary gets her revenge and how in the end "Jones Garrison" the bald man—whom everyone loves—is brought to justice, how Inspector Burke closes the talons of the law around the main characters, and what finally happens to Mary and her confederates, will undoubtedly excite the interest and curiosity of every theatre-goer. Seats are now selling at Plummer's.

Ruth St. Denis.

As the silken tapestries of the East are to the products of the Caucasion brush, so are the wondrous dances of the Orient to the drama of the West. Where the one but points his ideal, the other weaves it into tangibility; what the West would tell in spoken parable and theatric art, the East expresses in the unhindered sense of motion only. And that the latter goes farther, mounts to a higher form of the beautiful, and can be made a more perfect vehicle for the expression of thought and feeling, is strikingly proved by Ruth St. Denis, who will appear at the Academy Friday night and Saturday matinee, only, in her repertoire of Hindoo, Egyptian and Japanese dance-plays.

Like the very spirit of the land, whose strange mysticism and stranger philosophies she would interpret through the lovely medium of her flashing fingers and twinkling toes, Miss St. Denis is herself quite beyond the comprehension of the Caucasion mind. She deals in ideas and ideals, in forms and expressions, that have about them the impenetrable gauze of the mystic Orient. But in the delineation of beauty, which in its highest sense has but one standard, she is thoroughly understood.

Her body writhes rythmically to the haunting harmony of Hindu melody, her limbs alive with the very essence of graceful movement, and her personality pervading every gesture with a delicious flavor of charm and beauty. Her very toes are eloquent, her arms are as lyric verses, and the beck and lure of her fingers bespeak more of beauty and enchantment than tongue can tell.

Seats will go on sale at Plummer's tomorrow morning.

Saracina's Band.

Headed by the greatest vaudeville feature ever in the South and the most classical and expensive, the famed Saracina's Band, under the leadership of Rocco Saracina, the Victoria yesterday opened up a big show, to hold forth today and throughout tomorrow. Attracted both by the natural charms of the handsome thetre and the announcement of a special engagement of Caracina's Band, people flocked to the Victoria yesterday and the audiences last night were immense. And the band? Well, the organization, composed of 16 well known and swell musicians, simply took each large audience by storm. Encore followed encore and even after the curtain descended, the audience kept applauding. The band is a great organization and presents a repertoire of classical and popular numbers that appeals to all.

This is only an extra feature, because there are plenty of other acts of star vaudeville. The noted comedy team of Leo & Chapman is on the bill. These two clever people first present some startling, skilled feats on the bar and follow this up with a rousing comedy fun sketch, entitled "Water the Mule." It's a howl in the way of a novelty. The well known mimic and whistler, Billy Quirk, is also a star. His act is something new and decidedly artistic. Miss Lillian Carter, the "Magnolio Blossom," is also a star and highly entertains with coon songs, and she has a regular coon make-up, too.

New photoplays and new numbers by the Victoria orchestra complete the list of big things.

At the Grand Today.

These are especially the days of all days that the popular, in fact, the people's favorite amusement palace, the Grand, makes a powerful bid for the admiration and presence of folks, as the Grand is the comfortable spot of the city. It is as cool as the proverbial cucumber, and is ventilated by a perfect system, which makes the place decidedly healthful. Today this great amusement resort will present four films, but one of them will be a special two-part photoplay, and it will be some special release, too, being Pathe's great sensation, "On the Altar of Patriotism." It's a play that throbs with the times, being a story of military life, in which an heroic young officer, assisted by a daring young woman, steals plans of a fortress and escape. They sacrifice their lives, but deliver the plans to their countrymen. It's a thriller all the way through and will particularly appeal to folks at this particular time.

"The Hopi Raiders," is another strong film. It is Kalem's best and is a story of a gang of whiskey traders.

Edison's "When the Cartridges Failed" is another strong one on today, while there is a great educational film in "Unveiling the Maine Monument." This is something historically entertaining and that should not be missed.

Tomorrow Mr. Daniel Frohman will present at the Grand the famous romantic play, "The Pride of Jennico," with House Peters in the stellar role.

Tt The Bijou Today.

Heading the magnificent offering of the popular photoplay house for today will be seen the first installment of what is undoubtedly the greatest serial ever adapted to the screen, the first two reels of that great mystery story, "Lucile Love, The Girl of Mystery." More than forty newspapers are now printing this serial story, which attests its popularity. It is an exciting story of love, intrigue and adventure, with Grace Cunard and Francis Ford in the important roles. This great serial has created a sensation wherever the first installment has been shown, and the Bijou is indeed fortunate in securing this feature exclusively in Wilmington. Two reels of this enthralling mystery story will be presented every week, and you should not miss the first installment today, in order to get started with the story right at the beginning.

Following up this big feature will be seen a big Crystal comedy, "An Up-to-Date Cook," one of the bigest, brightest and best comedies ever released by the Crystal people, in which Vivian Prescott and Charlie Forrest are featured in the leads.

Third on today's big bill of fare comes another smashing big comedy, "The 'Poet Lariat' of The Flying A," a wild West comedy that presents an entirely new side to this series of pictures. Four big reels, one of them the feature of the year, all for five cents—Bijou is the place.

Rain Was Like Reddish Mud.

A curious phenomenon has been witnessed at Gibraltar.

Lurid coppery masses of cloud suddenly shrouded the sky over the Rock and Bay, after which a heavy shower of rain, the color of reddish mud, fell, leaving a pinkish stain in many parts of the town.

It is conjectured that a sandstorm in the neighboring African wilds had gathered the particles into the air, and that these meeting with the humid atmosphere round the Rock and a drop in temperature, fell in rain.

A yellow rainstorm has since been experienced and vessels arriving here report having noted the same phenomenon.

The inhabitants of Gibraltar depend upon rain water for drinking purposes, and concern is expressed regarding the sediment in the tanks.

May Apple Root

Oldest Known Medicine Mentioned in Genesis and Songs of Solomon

"Mandsake' is the Biblical name of what we call May Apple. Of the May Apple, Encyclopedia Brittanica defining the word Podophyllin says: "Mandrake or May Apple Root, a popular remedy much used by those averse to calomel or other mercurial preparations, hence has been called 'Vegetable Calomel'."

Our grandsires used May Apple Root, tea or powder as a Liver Regulator. It has survived by virtue of its merit as a starter of Bile. Our forefathers said: "It makes the Liver act"—which is true in the sense that it releases the Bile from the Liver.

Bile is the one natural germicide that overcomes germ growth in the intestines. A free normal flow of Bile is essential to immunity from germ infection and intestinal disorders.

For years chemists have labored to overcome the only objection ever raised to Podophyllin—the griping—and at last have succeeded and offer to the world a new formula called "PoDoLax"—"PoDo" from Podophyllin and "Lax", meaning laxative or gentle in action as contrasted with its former cathartic or purging effect.

PoDoLax is good to taste and is taken by children from a spoon or glass without the usual resistance. Best results are had by a single dose when a bad taste, or bad breath, or coated tongue are first noticed. Ask for PoDoLax and be sure to get PoDoLax.

ALCOHOL BARRED FROM NAVY

(Journal of American Medical Association.)

Alcohol as a beverage has been barred out of the United States Navy. Following the recommendation of Surgeon-General Braisted, Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels has issued an executive order abolishing all alcoholic liquors from every ship and station of the Navy. The order reads, "The use or introduction, for drinking purposes, of alcoholic liquors on board any naval vessels, or within any naval yard or station, is strictly prohibited, and commanding officers will be held directly responsible for the enforcement of this order." The significance and extent of the change which has taken place in popular views regarding alcohol, as indicated by this sweeping order of the secretary, can be appreciated only when one recalls the stories of naval experiences of past generations, when rum, brandy and whisky formed a part of the regular official rations, when liquor of some kind was served, as a routine procedure, to officers and men before going into action, and when one of the chief characteristic of sailors, whether officers or seamen, was their ability to dispose of an amazing quantity of intoxicants. The development of scientific methods and the use of instruments of precision in warefare have made alcohol absolutely detrimental to the modern naval man. Sea-fights in the past were won by brute hardihood and physical endurance which could perhaps be stimulated, temporarily at least, by large doses of alcohol. The modern war-ship is a floating laboratory of delicate and accurate machines. The gun-pointer who directs a 14-inch rifle on the modern man-of-war needs not only personal courage, but also absolute steadiness of nerve, clearness of vision and fine muscular coordination. All these things modern physiology has shown to be impaired by even small amounts of alcohol. The engineer who superintends the machinery at the heart of the modern battle-ship, the man at the wheel who directs its course and the captain or the executive officer on the bridge, as well as the most humble member of the crew, need at all times to be in a condition of maximum physical and mental efficiency. Intoxication in the naval officer to-day might easily be as disastrous as cowardice and treason. The Journal of the American Medical Association thinks that Surgeon-General Braisted's recommendations and Secretary Daniels' order are simply in line with our growing knowledge. The nation neds on its battleships to-day the most capable, clear-headed, cool-brained and steady-handed men, and these men are not found among the habitual or occasional users of alcohol in any form. Entirely aside from moral or sentimental reasons, and considered simply as a scientific regulation in the interest of efficiency, this order will recommend itself to the vast majority of the American people.

Two models which show how the government sells its timber have just been prepared in Washington, for display at the forest products exposition, to be held in Chicago April 30th to May 9th, and in New York May 20th to 30th. These models represent an acre of Western yellow pine land in a national forest of the Southwest before and after logging.

In the model showing the stand before the lumberman goes into it the trees range from those only a few years old to large, over-mature, stag-headed individuals more than ready for the ax. In the second model the mature trees and all others larger than a certain diameter have been cut down and made into logs and cordwood. In this, as in all government sales, the stumps are cut low to avoid unnecessary waste, logs are taken to a small diameter well up into the tree, and such material as is not fit for lumber is converted into cordwood. Together, the models show the care which the government requires of lumbermen in feeling old trees so that the young growth is not injured. The brush is piled in heaps for burning after the lumber has been removed, in order that the fire menace which foresters say usually follows lumbering may be done away with. The models are on a scale of about one inch to five feet, so that trees approximately 100 feet tall are about 20 inches high in the models.

It is the intention of the forest service to have these models set forth certain points in regard to the timber sales conducted by the government. They will demonstrate, in the first place, that the timber on the national forests is for use; placards tell how it is sold to the highest bidder when it is wanted for commercial purposes, and how it may be given away to local settlers and prospectors for developing homesteads or mines. The models themselves indicate that the timber is cut in such a way as to eliminate all available waste of wood and to secure a continuance of the forest crop, not only for timber production but for the protection of the soil. They further show the fundamental principles applicable to many logging operations, that the mature and overmature trees should be removed, that thriftily growing young trees should be left to produce seed and insure a reproduction of the stand, and that the young growth should be protected from damage in lumbering operations.

The models are supplemented by a graphic chart, which shows by pictured piles of money and by conventional trees of graded size the increase of timber sales on the national forests from 1905 to 1913, inclusive. In 1905 the timber sold from the national forests aggregated 96,000,000 board feet, which brought the government no more than $85,000. Three years later the amount of timber sold increased to nearly 390,000,000 board feet, and the money received rose to $735,000. In 1911 830,000,000 board feet sold for more than $2,000,000, and in 1913 more than 2,000,000,000 feet brought in contracts amounting to $4,500,000. Not all this money was received in any one year, because national forest timber is sold on contracts which range from one to twenty-five years, and it is paid for as cut.

MRS. POLLARD ON STAND.

Tells of Husband's Fear of Meeting Smith—Pollard Grilled.

Greenville, N. C., April 25.—The examination of the defendant Pollard was finished this morning. He made a good witness, though grilled from his cradle to now. Several other witnesses were examined, among them the defendant's wife. She told of her husband's fear of meeting Smith, staying at home more and telling her after the shooting. W. C. Askew, the defendant's brother-in-law, was on the stand when court adjourned to Monday morning.

There were many sharp clashes between opposing counsel. It will take several days next week to finish the case. More ladies were present today.

CLEMENT DENIES CHARGES.

On Trial at Spartanburg, S. C., Charged With Murdering Child.

Spartanburg, S. C., April 25.—Clyde C. Clement, a preparatory school student on trial here for the murder of a two-months-old baby, took the witness stand today and categorically denied all counts of the State's charges against him. Those charges are based on an alleged confession by Miss Laura F. Pendleton, who is under joint indictment with Clement, that he drowned the child with her consent. Clement testified totday that he was not, as Miss Pendleton is alleged to have charged, the father of the baby.

ITCHING IRRITATION.

Worst Form of Skin Trouble Quickly Relieved by Inexpensive Treatment.

When you suffer with any skin trouble, even though the itching seems unbearable, do not think that it is necessary to use some disgusting, greasy ointment. Try Hokara, a pure and simple cream, that is guaranteed to contain no grease or acids and which is so cleanly that it does not soil the linen.

Its power to instantly relieve any irritation of the skin and make it soft, white and beautiful is almost miraculous.

Not only do minor skin troubles like pimples, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., quickly disappear, but the worst ulcers or cases of salt rheum or eczema are cleansed and healed by this wonderful skin food.

In order that any one may try Hokara at small expense, the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. Drug Store are selling a liberal-sized jar at 25c, and in addition guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not do all that is claimed for it.

HOME HEALTH CLUB

By Dr. David M. Breeder, Chicago, Illinois.

Natural Laws of Health: We hear frequently and often speak of people who "break the laws of health", but that is a mistake. A human being cannot break any of the natural laws of health, but if he acts contrary to those laws they will break him.

Many people complain constantly because their physical condition is bad, they suffer pain and weakness. Life affords them but little pleasure. I have heard such people add, as if it was an after thought that they never would be able to get through the day if it was not for coffee or tobacco, or some other stimulant. Never for a moment using the brain which God gave them for guidance in reasoning out the fact that the stimulant never gives real strength. To illustrate: If you should drive a spirited horse until it was so tired it would walk slowly and allow it's head to hang low, that would be the natural result of a certain action. Now, if you apply a stimulant in the form of a whip, the horse will at once display as much energy and life as he did early in the day, but the whip did not furnish any strength it simply caused the tired muscles to exert themselves to the limit of their capacity in order to stop the punishment. In a short time the horse will be in a much more exhausted and deplorable condition than before.

So it is with the human being. Many physicians prescribe Strychnine as a tonic. It acts just as the whip does upon the horse, except that it does not give the pain. The exhausted nerves are lashed into activity and the patient feels fine for a time, but he is not treating himself as nature intended he should, but instead is going contrary to her laws and later on must suffer the penalty.

If a new born child should assimilate only one ounce of its food per day, and retain it the weight of that individual would be in 21 years over 470 pounds. Most of us have the idea that we must eat a great quantity of food in order to maintain our weight and strength and the result is that the great majority over-eat. We do not act in accordance with nature's laws and we must suffer. We do not promptly excrete the surplus or waste matter, the portion of our food not required for repair work and it remains in the system sometimes for many days in the form of partially digested food and fecal matter. Is it any wonder that so many doctors are able to live in comfortable homes and ride in fine carriages or automobiles?

It has been noted by English army officers that the native servants, laborers, porters, etc., could perform feats of strength and endurance far greater than the well-fed Englishmen, and they die it upon a very meager diet. A full grown man would frequently carry a heavy burden upon a long day's march and his total rations would consist of a few handfuls of dates and a small loaf of dry, hard, black bread.

When one over-eats, takes into his stomach more than is required for natural repair and maintainance of strength, he must exhaust a portion of the strength with which nature supplies him in order to throw off the surplus or waste matter. The excretory organs finally become exhausted from over-work and he complains of constipation. The poor and faithful liver is lashed sharply with the whips called pills and purgative water, until it finally refuses further extra effort. The waste matter accumulates and is absorbed into the system. Then follows colds, kidney troubles, sore throat, catarrh, asthma, piles, tumors, tuberculosis, cancers, etc. If the food that is eaten is thoroughly masticated the appetite is cloyed before the stomach is overloaded. Therefore, chew. Clean up, clean out and be free from sickness. You can if you will and the Home Health Club will gladly tell you just how to go about the task of overcoming the specific trouble you have if you will let us. Don't wait until your vital forces are entirely exhausted.

CLUB NOTES

I will gladly answer all inquiries for information on health subjects from readers of this publication if same are addressed to Home Health Club, 5039 Cottage Grove Avenue., Chicago. Send full name and address with 4 cents postage.

Dear Doctor—I am a reader of your lectures and I am always interested in the club notes for the reason that the advice given and remedies prescribed are always within the reach of all. I hope you can through the paper advise me what to do in the case of a swollen ankle. The foot and leg to the knee are swelled and over the ankle joint is a reddish purple spot as large around as a teacup and smaller spots have appeared on the other limb. They come slowly and after a week or so have to be lanced. The doctor says it is Rheumatism, the joints of the arms being stiff at times. The affected foot and leg look so full and puffed, and the skin is very shiny. It came on almost at once, the lameness in the ankle and then the gathering. Perhaps I have made this inquiry lengthy, but I am so hopeful that you can advise what to do as I am anxious to get well and strong again.

M. C.

You should remain in bed and the foot and leg should be placed in a thorough hot fomentation, after which it should be spunged with warm vinegar in which there has been dissolved a teaspoonful of salt, and a teaspoonful of red pepper to a pint of vinegar. These ingredients should be put into the vinegar before it is heated, and the liquid should be strained before using. All kinds of meats and fats should be excluded from the diet and you should drink large quantities of fresh buttermilk daily—three to four quarts will not be too much. This will keep up the strength, reduce the inflammation, and also aid in eliminating uric acid from the blood.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., April 26.—Col. James H. Young, colored, who held a commission as colonel of colored volunteer troops in the Spanish-American war and who some days ago telegraphed President Wilson offering to raise a regiment of negro troops for service in the invasion of Mexico, has just received from the White House a letter in which President Wilson acknowledges the tender of services, commends the patriotic spirit that the telegram manifested and advises Col. Young that he has brought his offer of services to the attention of the War Department. In the Spanish-American war Col. Young held the highest commission of any negro in the volunteer service.

GOOD ROADS BOND ISSUE.

Soon to be Voted on by Citizens of Lenoir County.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., April 27.—Lenoir county will shortly be called upon to vote on a bond issue for good roads. The initiative has been taken by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce. Concurring are the chairman of the county commissioners and the president of the county good roads association. A committee from the chamber will begin immediately a campaign to arouse interest in highway improvements.

The county now has a road fund of about $30,000, and this will not begin to cover the improvements desired. It is the aim of the good roads leaders to convert every road in the county into a modern, permanently constructed highway.

Taxation will keep the system up after building, and no levy will have to be made annually for construction. The chairman of commissioners and president of the roads association have changed their stand from opposing the issue to favoring it. The Chamber of Commerce says that sentiment is already strong enough to carry a bond issue. The city of Kinston is preparing to call an election to vote on a $100,000 issue for internal improvements.

Fayetteville, N. C., April 27.—The LaFayette Theatre and market house in this city was sold at public auction today to E. H. McCaskill ,receiver, some time ago, and that on February 22nd, last, it was sold at auction to E. H. Williamson for $15,000, but the court refused to confirm the sale, and ordered a resale, which was made today by W. S. Cook, auctioneer, at the price given above, $18,000.

Rex Guano Distributor

A positive force feed machine, designed to spread fertilizer in an open drill and cover it.

The fertilizer is discharged on an adjustable scoop-shaped casting that spreads the fertilizer in a broad band, six inches or more wide. The hopper is made of galvanized steel, and holds one bushel, or about 65 pounds of fertilizer.

The agitator in the hopper insures the filling of the conveyor with all conditions of fertilizer, and will handle cotton seed meal to perfection.

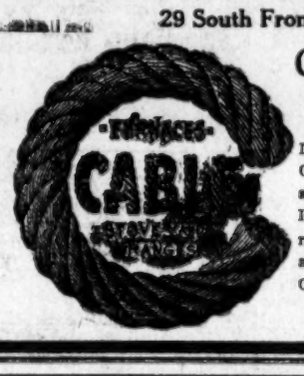

With the usual mixture of cotton seed meal, acid and kainit, its capacity is 3 1-2 foot rows, 200 to 1,000 pounds per acre, (more per acre on narrower, and less on wider rows). It is easily regulated, and when gears are set for quantity wanted the feed never changes; not affected by the speed of the horse; up or down hill the same; is well made; light draft; does absolutely perfect work. Its success is attested to by representative farmers throughout the entire cotton belt; weighs about ninety pounds.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

RELIABLE—FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND.

It is the quality of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound that makes it such a reliable medicine. For coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough, bronchial and la grippe coughs, which "hang on," in the spring and weaken the system, it has no equal. It also gives prompt and definite results for hoarseness, tickling throat, and stuffy, wheezy breathing. Mrs. Benj. W. Seavey, West Mills, Me., says: "Let me tell you how much I think of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound as a family cough syrup. It is particularly valuable as a small quantity has the effect desired, and it contains no opiates. I consider it the best cough syrup we have ever used." And Thos. Verron, Hancock, Mich., says: "Foley's Honey and Tar has always proven effective, quickly relieving tickling throat, and stopping the cough with no bad after effects." In 25c, 50c and $1.00 bottles. The genuine is a yellow package. For sale by R. R. Bellamy.

Quiet at Mexico City.

New York, April 27.—The Evening World today printed the following opyrighted dispatch:

Mexico City, via Galveston, April 7.—Preliminaries are being discussd today at Cuernavaca for the surender of Emiliano Zapata, with all is chiefs and followers who have exressed a desire to fight on the govrnment side to repel "foreign invadrs."

The capital is quieting down and here is no longer a rush of Amerians to get away. A special train has een arranged to leave tonight with mericans desiring to leave, but not few Americans after inscribing their ames on the roster of departure, reonsidered and have decided to reain.

There was little to differentiate esterday from other Sundays in the lexican capital. The city was quiet nd orderly and Mexicans in general ere considerate toward Americans emaining here.

The churches were crowded and he streets presented their customary ppearance.

The theatres were well patronized, ncluding the cinematograph shows.

Nearly all the American stores have e-opened and stores owned by perons of other nationalities have reoved their shutters.

Preparations at Galveston.

Galveston, Texas, April 27.—The ote of peace sounded in the mediaion negotiations proposed by the hree South American Republic to olve the Mexican trouble, found no cho here today in the hurried prepaations to embark an additional force o Vera Cruz.

All day long the quartermaster's department rushed the work of re-fitting the freighter San Marcos into n army transport and tonight the teamship was loaded with supplies nd ready to sail early tomorrow with troop of the sixth cavalry and batteries of the fourth field artillery.

The army here is moving all its vailable field artillery into Vera Cruz to be prepared, in event of a long ampaign of fighting in the mountain asses to Mexico City, should war be declared. Three hundred and forty rtillery and cavalry men were ready t Texas City tonight to board the San Marcos.

With the 16 mountain guns that were sent away on the Saltilla yesterday and the batteries sailing tomorrow, there will be nearly a regiment of artillery ready to take the field at Vera Cruz within the week.

While Brig. Gen. G. G. Davis, in command of the army here, would give no intimation of plans for moving troops it was reported that artillery was being given preference over cavalry in the dispatch of men to Vera Cruz.

Plenty of Supplies.

There are now 300,000 rations at Vera Cruz with additional supplies going on the San Marcos. Col. Krantzhauf, of the quartermaster's department, said tonight that the army had an additional three months' supplies in Galveston ready for shipment. Tents, blankets and other camp equipment are also in storage here.

The freight compartments of the San Marcos have been removed and below decks "standees" or iron berths were installed today. Each standee accommodates three men. Two brought from San Francisco.

The San Marcos was also fitted with stalls for the army mules that pack the mountain guns on their backs. Five hundred life preservers were put aboard the San Marcos. Those who are to sail tomorrow had five days rations in their haversacks.

Officers of the medical department say that the 4,000 soldiers who have gone to Vera Cruz are in fine physical condition to live in the tropics as all of them have spent a year under Gulf of Mexico coast conditions at Galveston.

A detachment of the army signal corps is expected tomorrow from Fort Leavenworth while several army aviators are en route from San Diego.

Carranza and Villa Split.

El Paso, Texas, April 27.—The relations between General Carranza and General Villa suddenly became the one topic of conversation today on dissemination of information brought in by refugees and the sudden departure of Villa for Carranza's headquarters in Chihuahua.

The two leaders were to meet tonight, it was expected to compose their differences over the attitude which the Constitutionalists shall hold toward the United States and over grave problems of military command.

Refugees brought word that affairs between them had reached a stage where one or the other must accept a distinctly second position in the revolution.

Villa had contemplated a longer stay in Juarez, but last night on receipt of certain telegrams from the south, suddenly announced that he would leave in the morning.

Villa invited Roberto V. Pesquira, Carranza's confidential agent here, to go with him, but Pesquira, who is the real foreign minister of the Constitutionalists, although he holds no portfolio, pleaded pressure of business here and the train, after waiting five hours, departed without him.

Significance was attached to the departure of Rafael Zubaran, Carranza's minister of the interior, for Washington. He left this morning and every effort was made to conceal the fact. With Pesquira here and Zubaron in Washington there will be a chain of discussion of the capture of Vera Cruz through agents thoroughly familiar with sentiment of Northern Mexico and military policy.

Await Reply from Wilson.

Carranza still is awaiting a reply from President Wilson and Secretary Bryan to his disturbing note of last Wednesday.

This note Carranza's aides repeatedly have explained was intended as the basis for further diplomatic exchanges, but among them the impression is growing that there will be no reply. Carranza asked that the American forces be withdrawn from Vera Cruz and the President since has made it clear that he has no such intention at present.

Three special trains carrying soldiers arrived today and other trains with the remainder are expected in the course of the night and tomorrow.

The situation along the Texas, Arizona and New Mexico borders was regarded as more re-assuring. Refugees generally reported that they were not ill treated, although some of them said that bandit bands were taking advantage of the exodus to loot unprotected property.

Rebel commanders everywhere received warnings to treat foreigners and their property with respect, and not to pay heed to exaggerated reports of strained relations with the United States.

Prisoners Ordered Moved.

Washington, April 27.—Orders were issued by the War Department today transferring the Mexican prisoners held at Fort Bliss near El Paso, Texas, to Fort Wingate, N. M. The War Department believed it necessary to move the prisoners further from the Mexican border in view of possible developments.

The third squadron of the 12th cavalry now at Fort Meade, S. D., will be sent to Fort Wingate to guard the prisoners.

Over Four Thousand.

El Paso, Texas, April 27.—The Mexican Federal prisoners now under guard at Fort Bliss, near here, number 4,900, of whom aproximately 1,900 are women and children. The prisoners include Generals Mercado, Francisco, Castro, Blas or Pinal and Romero. General Jose Ynez Salazar also continued with them, is under indictment in the United States under charges of violating the neutrality laws. He will be taken to Santa Fe for trial in May. Maximo Castillo, said to have been chief of the bandits who set fire to the Combre tunnel, in which at least 11 Americans lost their lives, also is a prisoner at Fort Bliss.

Likely to Cross Border.

Gen. Guajardo, commanding the Federal garrison that evacuated Piedras Negras, was wounded and his forces defeated by the rebels at Allende last night. The Federals are expected to retreat to the American side of the Rio Grande tonight. A detachment of Constitutionalists arrived tonight at Fuentes, four miles from Piedras Negras.

Huerta Urged to Accept.

Berlin, April 27.—Germany, England and France have advised Provisional President Huerta, through their ministers in Mexico City, to accede to the demands of the United States. this announcement was made here today.

Make Overtures to Rebels.

Nogales, Ariz., April 27.—Federal troops in Guaymas, on the Pacific coast have made overtures to the rebels looking toward the surrender of that city, according to reports which rebel leaders said they received today.

Pressed by a threatened attack by United States marines, Gen. Joaquin Tellez, commander of the Federal garrison, is said to have addressed another note to Gen. Alfaro Obregon, rebel commander, asking on what terms Obregon would receive the surrender of the 4,000 Huerta soldiers. Obregon referred the subject to Gen. Carranza, it was said, and was authorized to tell Gen. Tellez the lives of all the Federals would be spared of they turned Guaymas over to the rebels. What effect the answer had on Tellez was not divulged in late dispatches from the south.

The exodus of Americans from western Mexico progressed quietly. Some Americans from remote points came out without knowing that the United States had occupied Vera Cruz. It is believed by many that Western Mexico within a week will be cleared of all Americans except a few who insist on remaining there.

Released from Quarantine.

Galveston, Texas, April 27.—Dr. I. L. McGlasson, county health officer, announced tonight that he would release the collier Cyclops, the torpedo boat convoy Dixie, and the steamship Esperanza from quarantine tomorrow. All have refugees aboard.

wounded are hopeful that none of those in the hospitals are dangerously injured, although in two instances much concern is manifested.

Dr. Tom Person, postmaster at Wilson, was one of the more seriously injured. He is cut in the head and on the legs. On account of his age the result of the shock may be serious.

Mrs. N. A. Culbreth, of Wilmington, is injured internally.

Other injured are:

A. L. Jackson, Elm City, hurt in back.

Will Lancaster, Black Creek, cut on legs.

E. E. Mason, Black Creek, injured in back.

Fred Ham, Black Creek, cut by falling axe.

A. H. Edgerton, Goldsboro, cut on head.

J. H. Weddell, Newbern, injured in back.

Mrs. Dr. Grady, Kenly, badly bruised and suffering from shock.

Mrs. R. O. Martin, Kenly, thrown through car window and cut by glass.

Charles, infant son of Mrs. Martin, badly cut by flying glass.

Rosa Hogan, colored nurse, cut and bruised.

The wreck occurred a short distance south of the signal tower at the Contentnea junction and passengers on the train state that the engineer was running close to 50 miles an hour when he suddenly attempted to slow up for the signal tower. The train buckled and the second class car left the rails, tearing up the track. The two first class coaches and Pullman chair car turned over down an embankment 30 feet. All of the injured people were in these three cars.

to his care, and she later identified him as her son.

So much doubt existed as to the identity of the boy taken from the tinker that Governor Brewer, of Mississippi refused to honor the requisition of the Governor of Louisiana for the return of Walters to that State until he had held a test. John M. Parker, of New Orleans, appointed by Governor Brewer to represent him in the inquiry, after hearing the testimony of a number of persons, ruled that the boy was Robert Dunbar.

Governor Brewer then honored the requisition but attorneys for Walters appealed to the Supreme Court of Mississippi which on January 12th, 1914, ordered the extradition of Walters to Opelousas for trial. The trial began here April 13th.

mine owners, before returning to Washington.

A telegram from Governor Ammons was presented at the White House by Representative Taylor asking that a committee of army officers from Fort Logan be sent to investigate the Ludlow situation.

Fighting Continues.

Denver, Colo., April 27.—In a clash between strikers and mine guards late today at the McNally mine of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company, one mile west of Walsenburg, the camp was taken by the strikers, one person was shot and several buildings were burned. This constituted the principal indication that Colorado's industrial war is still on. Mary Gregory, a resident of the camp, was shot in the arm.

Sheriff J. B. Farr has notified Governor Ammons that he is powerless to cope with the situation and that he feared further attacks by strikers on other mines and on the town of Walsenburg.

Orders to remove a detachment of fifty State troops to Walsenburg have been sent to Col. W. A. Davis, at Ludlow, but it is said the militia will not reach there before morning.

General Chase has established a camp at Williamsburg, in Fremont county near Florence, under instructions to take no action except in case of actual attack.

Meanwhile all interest centers on Federal action on the request of State, union and mine officials that United States troops be sent to control the situation. The situation has resolved into one of securing Federal troops, said Horace ... Hawkins, chief countysel for the mine workers tonight. "This offers the only complete solution. The miners will never submit to the Colorado National Guard, recruited as it is, in part at least, from the ranks of the mine guards. There is no possibility of securing enough militiamen to settle it."

Cannot Arbitrate.

New York, April 27.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., told Congressman Martin D. Foster, chairman of the House committee on mines and mining, today that he (Mr. Rockefeller) was in no position to arbitrate the labor troubles in the Colorado coal fields.

Mr. Foster came to New York as the personal representative of President Wilson. After a talk of three hours with the younger Rockefeller, he said:

"I went over the ground thoroughly with Mr. Rockefeller and explained the whole situation to him. As I am to report the result of my interview to the President I do not feel that I can give the details of the conference at this time. I might say, however, that I explained that the President did not want to send Federal troops in the strike district; that the President was trying to prevent bloodshed. "At the conclusion of the conference Mr. Rockefeller told me that he did not consider himself in a position to arbitrate the demands of the miners and the conference ended. I do not believe Mr. Rockefeller will do anything further in the matter."

Neither Mr. Rockefeller nor his personal counsel would discuss the matter.

Situation As It Stands.

Trinidad, Colo., April 27.—A day of waiting ended tonight with the strike situation in the Southern Colorado coal field substantially as follows:

The militia, with the exception of the 200 men sent with Adjutant General Chase to Fremont county still were encamped at Ludlow, 15 miles north. The army of strikers under command of "General" John Brown has completed the construction of its colony on the site of the former militia camp on the outskirts of the city.

Coroner B. B. Sipe announced that the inquest over the victims of the Ludlow battle one week ago would open on April 29th.

Attacks by isolated bodies of strikers on Sopris and McNally mines were reported during the day.

Almost perfect order has prevailed in Trinidad since the strikers came in from the hills. The saloons have remained closed and union leaders declare they are making every effort to control their followers and remove them to the new camp. About fifty tents had been erected tonight at the new colony.

Town Set Afire.

Denver, Colo., April 27.—At 10:30 o'clock tonight it was reported here that the towns of Louisville, LaFayette and Marshall, in the Northern Colorado coal fields, had been attacked by striking miners with machine guns and that Louisville was on fire.

ULSTERITES LANDED GUNS AND AMMUNITIONS FRDAY.

British Government Will ake Immediate Steps to Vindicate Itself.

London, April 27.—"This grave and unprecedented outrage," was the term used by Premier Asquith today replying to a questio in the House of Commons as to the gun-running exploit of the Ulster "volunteers," who in strong armed force, landed forty thousand rifles and 500,000 cartridges at various points in Ulster on Friday. The premier said:

"The House may rest assured that the government will without delay take proper steps to vindicate the authority of the law.'
